

Marbletown Zoning-- Homework Ahead

By SHANE CROSBY

STONE RIDGE It was a long night in class for the more than 350 persons at the Marbletown Zoning Board's first major hearing here Tuesday night in the elementary school. And when it ended, all had their homework to do: the public had a 75-page proposed ordinance to read and the board had changes to consider for the same law.

"We came to hear you," said Mrs. G. R. Numrich, chairman of the meeting. Although crowded into the school's gym, residents and board members alike were able to maintain a semblance of order throughout the three-hour hearing sparked by a number of outbursts of applause and, at one point, boos.

Major criticism was expressed by a small number of businessmen and supporters who charged the board was "squashing business" by not allowing commerce along the length of Routes 209 and 213 that dog-legs through the township.

John Albright Jr., of Stone Ridge made the charge as he called the two routes the "main street" of the town. The board displayed a multi-colored zoning map that restricts business from many sections of the two roads. The restriction would apply only to any new operation that moved into the township after the law was enacted.

Albright charged that new business would not want to be restricted as the zoning map indicated and would stay away from the town. Clarence Hansen, a member of the board, doubted the immediate need for an all-business Rts. 213-209 (terming it "strip zoning") and said he has seen only "five or six new businesses in the past 15 years" come to Marbletown.

Mrs. Kenneth Davenport, another board member, questioned that the two routes could be considered the "main street" on the basis that they ran through the town. She said consideration had to be given to homes along the two roads and that the zoning law would be "to keep it better for both home and business."

She said the possible location of a new Route 209 had a lot to do with the placing of commercial zones in the town.

A possible change in the zoning ordinance to adapt to future needs was pointed out by Stanley Walker of the board who commented the law would "be good for a while" as it is now "but will not hold forever." He and other board members noted a number of times that changes could be made in the future through "a built in provision for amendments."

The map itself was not complete, according to the board, because of overdue reports on the location of certain boundary lines for the commercial zones. Questions were raised by residents as to just where the zones would end, as one man's business zone would border on another man's residential zone.

Other businessmen, members of the Marbletown Businessmen's Association, charged that the board was unfair in its locating the red business zones in the town.

Specific questions by residents were answered by the board in general, with one member turning to another for help on issues of local nature. Some were not answered by the board and other questions were confused or drowned out by noise.

"I don't know, I don't know," answered Mrs. Numrich as a resident posed questions in rapid succession. "I think there is a lot of things about this that the planning board does not know," retorted the resident, Albert Terwilliger. A heavy round of applause rose as he made his point.

Trailers were the concern of many at the hearing. Restricted to the white zone of the town that is called rural-residential with room for industry, many called it discrimination against both trailer owners and residents who would have to live in nearby homes.

Persons both for and opposed to trailers commented that the board was keeping trailers out of the "green" two-acre residential area and were in effect working for "30 per cent" of the people who occupy the "green" area.

Support for the zoning ordinance came from the Town of Marbletown supervisor, Roy Webber, who told the group that zoning was being enacted all around the town and that Marbletown would "get the scum" that can not locate in zoned townships. He said that a car and a trailer loses its value after a number of years and that it could be accepted.

"A home needs some protection," he said. He urged those present to "have an open mind" on zoning, to the applause of many.

The board said a second public hearing would be scheduled after they considered the items brought up Tuesday night. Mrs. Numrich said a 10-day notice would be given before the meeting and told the group that 50 copies of the ordinance were available for loan.

The Enemy Stockpiles Still Hint Saigon Push

SAIGON (AP) — American Air Cavalrymen clashed briefly today with North Vietnamese troops who military sources said were moving into attack positions 35 miles northeast of Saigon.

Sharp fighting also was reported 18 miles north of Saigon, in the Mekong Delta south of the capital, and along the jungle trails from Laos and the A Shau valley, west of Da Nang and Hue.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 145 enemy soldiers at a cost of six Americans and 13 South Vietnamese killed, 13 Americans and 33 South Vietnamese wounded and seven South Vietnamese missing.

Allied troops also uncovered many more tons of rice and munitions near the Cambodian border, another indication the enemy is still trying to stock up for an offensive in the Saigon area, military spokesmen said.

The American Air Cavalrymen were riding helicopter gunships looking for troops from the North Vietnamese 5th Division in the triple-canopied jungle of War Zone D. Suddenly they spotted several men in an opening and cut into them with machine guns.

A short while later, Air Cavalrymen on the ground discovered the bodies of 15 North Vietnamese killed by the gunships. Two and a half hours later, more Air Cavalrymen were landed to pursue the enemy.

A U.S. spokesman said American bombers and artillery sent the North Vietnamese fleeing through the jungle, and eventually all contact was lost during the afternoon.

Military sources said troops of North Vietnam's 5th Division are moving through War Zone D to join up with an independent regiment and two sapper battalions for an attack, most likely on major allied bases and headquarters just north of Saigon.

Another fight raged 18 to 20 miles north of Saigon Tuesday when South Vietnamese infantrymen with American advisers ran into enemy troops. A South Vietnamese spokesman said 43 of the enemy were killed, most of them by air and artillery strikes. Four South Vietnamese infantrymen and two U.S. advisers were also killed and 20 government soldiers and two Americans were wounded.

The South Vietnamese suffered their heaviest losses in the Mekong Delta early Tuesday when enemy troops took a 10-man government pacification team and its escort of 100 soldiers by surprise. Field reports said the pacification team was virtually wiped out with three men killed, three wounded and two missing, while five of the infantrymen were killed, five were wounded and five were missing. Enemy casualties were not known.

Two miles north of this fight, a government infantry battalion reported killing 31 enemy soldiers in light, scattered contacts Tuesday. One South Vietnamese was killed and five were wounded.

U.S. Marines trying to choke off North Vietnamese supply lines through the A Shau valley clashed five times Tuesday, reported killing 56 enemy soldiers. Three Marines were killed and seven were wounded.

The Marines have been bunkers 54 miles northwest of sweeping through the rugged Saigon. It yielded 150 tons of mountains close to the Laotian rice, enough to feed 10,000 North border since Jan. 22. U.S. Vietnamese troops for a month, spokesmen said a total of 394 and 10 tons of munitions, including enemy soldiers have been ing more than 1,700 rockets and killed, while Marine losses are mortar and recoilless rifle shells plus other arms.

U.S. infantrymen of the 25th Division and South Vietnamese militiamen found a huge enemy no enemy were seen," a spokesman said Tuesday in underground man said.

There were signs of recent enemy activity in the area, but

KINGSTON

The Freeman has learned that Irving Bell, executive director of the Kingston Human Relations Commission, has resigned, effective March 16.

In a statement mailed today to the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, chairman of the commission, Bell says, "In view of the attitude taken by the Kingston Human Relations Commission and the relative uncertainty of my status as executive director of the commission, I have decided to tender my resignation effective March 16, 1969."

"My decision," Bell continues, "is based on the needs of my family and at the present time I will be able to more adequately meet those needs in private industry."

"I wish to thank the people of the city and the county for their assistance in the past month. I believe we have a long way to go."

Bell gave no specific reason for resigning. He did note, however, that the Common Council had approved an $800 increase in salary for his job and that he had received only a $300 raise.

Bell concludes, "If we are to meet our commitments in the future we will have to work with all segments of the Kingston community with the proper respect for a man's right to earn a decent living without constant pressure from members of any board of directors. I believe we have a long way to go."

Allen's Student Permissiveness Hit

ALBANY Senator Jay P. Rolison Jr. (Republican-38th District) and Assemblyman H. Clark Bell (Republican, Ulster County) in a joint statement released today criticized Education Commissioner Dr. James E. Allen for his apparent permissiveness toward students convicted of campus disorders.

Recently the State Senate passed a bill to strip students of state paid scholarships if they are convicted of crimes designed to undermine and disrupt university life such as disorderly conduct. Commissioner

Allen issued a statement shortly after the bill passed the senate in which he disapproved of the action of the Senate and said even convicted students should not be deprived of their state paid scholarships.

Rolison and Bell in their statement said: "The apparent permissiveness demonstrated by Commissioner Allen may in large part explain some of the difficulties recently experienced in our school systems. Respect for law and order, respect for society, respect for the rights of the majority and above all responsible action apparently are not as important as uncontrolled and often times irresponsible expressions of so-called individual freedoms which results in riots that close down our schools. Commissioner Allen's type of thinking does great disservice to the great majority of students who come to school to get an education and better themselves.

Our school system was established and is maintained dedicated to the proposition that every student be given the opportunity to experience the advantages of good education. The convicted, and deprives the great majority of students who earnestly seek educational advancement, that student should not be rewarded for such activity with a state paid-taxpayer supported scholarship.

"Commissioner Allen's permissiveness and thinking are wrong. This type of permissiveness and thinking breeds moral disintegration and disrespect for lawful authority. It encourages disruptive and irresponsible actions. It discriminates against the great majority of students who come to school to get an education.

Stanley Steingut and Albert Blumenthal, the Assembly's two top Democrats, are ready to continue the unsuccessful battle their Senate colleagues waged to prevent college students from losing state financial aid for on-campus crimes. Story on page 3.

Ziegler also was questioned about correspondence between Nixon and French President Charles de Gaulle, one of the European leaders who will be host to the chief executive next week. Ziegler said he couldn't discuss presidential correspondence.

White House sources revealed, however, that Nixon and De Gaulle have been in touch by mail and that former President Eisenhower also has been corresponding with De Gaulle. No one was willing to talk about the contents of the various letters.

We certainly hope the members of the Assembly are totally unimpressed with Commissioner Allen's type of thinking and approved the senate passed bill."

Commissioner Allen has been named U. S. commissioner of Education by President Richard M. Nixon.

President Invited to the Soviet? White House Not Saying Yes or No

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has refused to knock down speculation that President Nixon already has been invited to visit the Soviet Union.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler was asked Tuesday whether Nixon had been invited to meet with Soviet leaders and said he didn't have anything to report on the subject.

Reminded that was not a denial, Ziegler said: "I wouldn't discuss anything in relation to this speculation."

Talk about an invitation escalated following Nixon's hour-long conference Monday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoliy Dobrynin—a session that lasted twice as long as scheduled.

Stories on President Nixon's security for European tour and possible successor for party chairman Ray Bliss Page 4.

In his most recent news conference, Nixon scoffed at "instant summits" but indicated he would be glad to talk with Soviet leaders later after full advance preparations.

There was no indication whether an invitation—if one was made—was specific or couched in vague diplomatic terms that simply left the matter open.

Ziegler flatly ruled out the possibility Nixon would add Moscow to the itinerary of his five-nation Western European trip that starts Sunday.

No American president has ever visited the Soviet Union. An invitation to Dwight D. Eisenhower was canceled in 1960 after the U2 spy plane was shot down over Russia.

Soviet leaders were believed to have been interested in meeting with former President Johnson in hopes of offsetting criticism for the invasion of Czechoslovakia, a goal some say they still hope to achieve by an early Nixon visit.

Ziegler also was questioned about correspondence between Nixon and French President Charles de Gaulle, one of the European leaders who will be host to the chief executive next week. Ziegler said he couldn't discuss presidential correspondence.

White House sources revealed, however, that Nixon and De Gaulle have been in touch by mail and that former President Eisenhower also has been corresponding with De Gaulle. No one was willing to talk about the contents of the various letters.

Curran to Oppose Reid Again in Rosendale

ROSENDALE — Republican Town Attorney William P. Curran, who lost his race for mayor of Rosendale to Joseph Reid two years ago by a mere 14 votes, has announced his candidacy once again.

If the mayoral campaigns follow the same lines they did in the past, the election promises to be a colorful one.

Curran, selected at a Republican caucus this week will have Kenneth A. Smith as his running mate, seeking the trustee post being sought by Democrat Donald Juhl.

Mayor Reid declared he would seek another term following a Democratic caucus held recently.

Curran said he is throwing his hat into the ring once again

"at the request of a substantial part of the community."

While maintaining his practice of law in the Village of Rosendale, the 38-year old candidate served as Justice of the Peace for the town from 1958 to 1962 and as a member of the town board. He served as special counsel to the former village mayor and has represented taxpayer's groups and as counsel for the Town of Rosendale Flood Control Committee.

A dedicated skier, he is leaving for a week's stay in Germany Friday in order that he may promote Rosendale's International Ski Jump for next year's events.

Smith, 34, who resides at 7

Davis Street, and is an employee of IBM, is a graduate of Kingston High School. A veteran of the Korean War, he served with the U.S. Navy for four years. Curran says Smith's dedication and talent for leadership and good judgement has been recognized, having served as commander of Legion Post 1219.

Town Supervisor Will Study Zoning Law in Woodstock

By TOBIE GEERTSEMA

WOODSTOCK — Zoning was back in the news again — looming just as large and controversial as ever — at Tuesday night's regular monthly meeting of the Woodstock Town Board.

A resolution, offered by Justice of the Peace Rudolph Baumgarten and unanimously approved by the board, will allow Supervisor Milton Houst to negotiate with an appropriate professional group or groups for the purpose of redefining and revising the zoning ordinance.

Recent pressure by local businessmen and other residents to take another look at the town's three-year-old zoning ordinance (with special emphasis on regulations governing commercial advertising signs), evidently led to the adoption of the resolution. In addition, the board has had in its hands since Jan. 9 a report of the Zoning Review Board which worked for 18 months in an effort to suggest certain changes.

Suggestions made by this board included "rewriting and reorganizing" the ordinance into more understandable language and form; the creation of a Design Advisory Board; and some changes in the present rules governing location and placement of signs.

Supervisor Houst, who recently said "The Town Board

obviously saw something that needed revising in the ordinance or it would not have appointed the reviewers," made it clear that the new resolution does not give him unlimited power. "We simply want the people to know that we will pursue this beehive about the signs immediately," he said; noted that he will only have the power "to investigate and look into possibilities for any revisions found necessary." He defined the "professional group or groups" mentioned as being such agencies as the Ulster County Planning Board, Woodstock Planning Board, Association of Towns, legal counsel, or the study of other ordinances in other places.

Houst also said that the new resolution "has changed nothing as far as the ordinance is concerned." In other words, the zoning ordinance is still in effect in Woodstock as it now stands until further notice.

A second resolution offered Tuesday night by Justice of the Peace Edgar Leaycraft and seconded by Houst, pointed out the fact that the Town Board stands ready to back its duly appointed zoning officers and agencies to the hilt until changes are made. The resolution authorized building inspector Harold Martin and Attorney Arthur Ewig "to take any steps necessary including litigation, to enforce the application by Lewis R. Wilson for a special use permit."

The Wilson matter dates back to last July when the former Woodstock garage owner opened a used car lot on Mill Hill Road without making the proper application to the Zoning Board of Appeals in advance. No special use permit was ever granted by this board to Wilson, but the car lot has, nevertheless, remained on the town's main street until the present time. It remains to be seen whether litigation will be necessary, but the Town Board's unanimously adopted resolution indicates Woodstock is willing to go to court in the matter, if necessary.

No Further Delays At Rondout Gardens

Further delays in the construction progress of Rondout Gardens will not be tolerated and steps to expedite the completion of the development were the results of a meeting, requested by the Housing Authority, and held early this week in New York City according to a statement issued today by Alexander Yosman, Executive Director of the Kingston Housing Authority.

Yosman said the meeting was held with representatives of the Kingston Housing Authority, the General Contractor and Housing Assistance Administration to discuss the problems encountered in the construction of Rondout Gardens and the many delays which were hampering the progress of the development.

As a result of the meeting it was agreed that the making of units available would be coordinated with the ability of the contractor to install new streets and sidewalks.

The general contractor also assured the Authority that barring any unforeseen problems that may arise, the Authority could expect to have three buildings available for occupancy in June, seven buildings in July and the balance of the buildings in August.

Yosman further stated that a contract has been awarded for the top soil and planting and that the landscaping work would be carried out at the same time that the development is being completed.

Yosman stated that in all of his years in the housing field he sary, to attempt the legal removal of the lot.

In what the board referred to as a move "to afford better coverage for and by committeemen in Woodstock's voting districts," members unanimously approved a resolution changing the town's election districts. Two new election districts will be formed, making six instead of the present four. Election districts will now be numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 — meaning that present District 2 will be divided into Districts 2 and 5, and present District 3 will be split into Districts 3 and 6.

District 2 which has long covered the upper hamlets of the township will now be divided by lines splitting the valleys of Willow and Wittenberg and going across the mountains. The valley of Willow will now become District 2 and the valley of Wittenberg will now be known as District 5.

Present District 1 (the Mead Mountain side of the village) and present District 4 (the Ohayo Mountain side) will remain the same. The hamlet of Zena which now makes up the major proportion of present District 3 will become Districts 3 and 6. Voters in the upper half of the area above VanDeBogart and VanDale Roads will remain in District 3, and the new District 6 will consist of all voters on the other side of those roads.

The board is in agreement that the new plan will make the work of committeemen easier and will relieve Election Day traffic by creating an extra set of books with which to work.

In other business Tuesday night, the board announced its acceptance of a deed granting the town a permanent open space easement on land owned by Woodstock Property Company and involving the Woodstock Country Club golf course. For the sake of aesthetics and in a move to preserve open space, the easement is aimed at "perpetuating the scenic approach to Woodstock" and at "preventing future development or building of any kind on the edge of the golf course."

never encountered as many problems in getting a development in operation as was encountered at Rondout Gardens. Problems included sub soil conditions, financing, strikes, architect's redesign of buildings, weather, disputes between contractors and many others. Representing the Authority at the meeting were George E. Yerry Jr., chairman, Harry Gold, counsel and Yosman, executive director.

Navy Sent Pueblo to Spy, Didn't Give Instructions

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI)—The Navy sent the 83 men of the USS Pueblo on a spy mission to the edge of a Communist country without telling them how to behave if captured.

That was the testimony of three officers of the Pueblo before a Navy court of inquiry into the ship's capture off the coast of North Korea Jan. 23, 1968. The hearing is in its third phase, dealing with the conduct of the men in captivity.

Testimony resumed today before a board of five admirals, with four more witnesses waiting to describe their 11 months in a Korean prison.

At Witness Table

Still at the witness table when today's session opened was Lt. (j.g.) Timothy Harris, 23, Jacksonville, Fla., who began telling the court his story Tuesday. Harris was to be followed today by CWO Gene H. Lacy, 37, Seattle, Wash.

Like two other officers who testified before him, Harris said his only advice on how to behave as a prisoner of war came before he was commissioned, when he was still in officer candidate school.

There, he was told about the U.S. government's official Code of Conduct for men who became prisoners of war. It forbids any form of collaboration with the enemy and requires servicemen to tell his captors only his name, rank, service number and date of birth.

Harris said he received no more instructions after he left

OCS, even when he was assigned to the Pueblo, an electronic espionage vessel. His testimony paralleled that of Lt. Edward R. Murphy Jr., the Pueblo's second in command, and Lt. (j.g.) Frederick C. Schumacher, the operations officer.

All three said that after violent beatings by the Koreans they agreed to sign "confessions" the Pueblo entered espionage.

The only variation to their stories involved the length of time they held out.

Search Continues For 'Gamblers' Plane

HAWTHORNE, Nev. (UPI)—Ground parties, some on skis or snowshoes, battled rain and heavy snow today searching for a DC3 airliner which vanished with 35 persons on a "gamblers flight."

The twin-engine plane, similar to the C47 which served as one of the workhorses of World War II, disappeared in a snow storm shortly after take-off from Hawthorne Airport at 4:06 a.m. Tuesday.

It's route varied from sleet-swept barren Nevada desert country to the 13,000-foot peaks of the High Sierra, where heavy snow continued to fall on a record pack that has forced some ski areas to close.

The plane, carrying 32 passengers and a crew of three, was operated by Mineral County Airlines, which also conducts business as Hawthorne Nevada Airlines.

Most of the passengers were on the return leg of a flight that carries Southern California customers to a Hawthorne casino on an overnight $10 excursion plan which includes air fare, dinner and cocktails.

The crew was identified as pilot Fred Hall of San Fernando Valley, Calif.; copilot Ray Hamer of Long Beach; and stewardess Pat Nannes. The last report from Hall came 16 minutes after takeoff from Hawthorne, when he radioed his flight plan to Tonopah 100 miles south.

"They might have found a nice flat area to come down in or they might have landed in one of our alkali lakes," said airport Manager Art Barlow. "These pilots are real good. They are the best in the business."

More Effort Needed For Biafra—Goodell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without dramatically increased relief efforts, well over 1 million Biafrans will soon starve in "an indirect form of genocide," Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., said Wednesday.

Goodell, who recently returned from a fact-finding trip to the African secessionist state, called for a much more active effort by the United Nations in bringing about a ceasefire in the Biafra-Nigeria civil war.

"A conflict which ... is already responsible for well over 2 million dead cannot be shrugged off as an internal matter lacking in international concern," he said.

The senator noted that his study mission to Biafra had arrived and left under bombing attack by Nigerian planes.

He commented on the trip, which included four days in Biafra, in a prepared speech presenting the mission's report at a luncheon meeting of the National Press Club.

The report will be sent to the State Department, Goodell said. "The qualifications of the professional team are unassailable," the senator said. "Their findings are irrefutable."

Goodell reported that:

—A Nigerian bomber drops 6 to 9 bombs every night on Biafra's Uli airport, "thereby cutting relief flights to one-third their potential."

—"There is an urgent need to end the atrocities being carried out against the civilian population of Biafra."

—"It is absolutely essential that a greatly expanded tonnage of relief supplies, food in particular, be made available to the Biafran population."

—"There is a need for a much more active role by U.N. specialized agencies that 'have done essentially nothing so far.'"

—"The President should be asked to designate a relief adviser to work on problems of international relief."

Goodell said that atrocities against the Biafrans included "the systematic bombing and strafing of hospitals, even when they are clearly identified with a red cross, the air attacks on children in their schools, the bombing of women and children in market places and feeding centers, the poisoning of smuggled foodstuffs, and interference with relief flights."

"Incisive action is necessary to prevent an indirect form of genocide that will wipe out more than 1 million Biafran women and children in the immediate months ahead," he said.

Dems Waging Battle On Student Aid Bill

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Assembly's two top Democrats — Stanley Steingut and Albert Blumenthal — are ready to continue the unsuccessful battle their Senate colleagues waged to prevent college students from losing state financial aid for on-campus crimes.

The controversial issue boiled anew Tuesday, when the Senate broadened the scope of a previously passed measure so that it also would apply to students in the SEEK program for disadvantaged youths.

The only opposition in the Senate came from the minority Democrats, who based their opposition on claims that the measures discriminate against the poor without touching — in one senator's words — "the rich kids."

After the new section was added Tuesday, by a vote of 37-17, the bill was sent to the Assembly.

Opposed to Bill

Steingut, the Democratic minority leader, and Blumenthal, the party's deputy minority leader, have made it clear that they are opposed to the legislation.

"We're going to battle it," Steingut told a reporter Monday.

Asked Tuesday what his position was, Blumenthal smiled and said, "You know me."

"Instead of penalties," he explained, "we ought to be trying to solve problems."

The Senate action on the student-aid bill highlighted legislative action Tuesday.

In the Assembly, ringing speeches by members of both parties set the stage for unanimous passage of a measure to make it more difficult for the state's Urban Development

Corp. to overrule the will of localities on slum-clearance projects.

John E. Kingston, the Republican majority leader, summed up the temper of the Assembly by saying the bill strengthens "home rule."

The measure, sponsored by Mortimer P. Gallivan, D-Syracuse, would require seven of the corporation's nine directors to concur before carrying out a local project that a municipality disapproved.

At present, such projects may be undertaken, even though local officials object, if two-thirds of the directors concur.

The Assembly also passed a measure to allow corporations and joint stock associations to contribute up to $100 to help elect candidates to public office. The vote was 105-40 on the bill introduced by Ferdinand J. Mondello, D-Bronx.

Both Assembly-passed measures were sent to the Senate.

In another action, 11 Democratic senators filed three bills to provide for the popular election of delegates to national party conventions.

The financial-aid bill would penalize students for any on-campus felony or misdemeanor or such crimes as "aggravated harassment, criminal nuisance, falsely reporting an incident or unlawfully possessing noxious material" — such as smoke bombs.

Much Criticism

Since the original bill was passed in the Senate last week, many educators and school officials—including State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr.—have criticized it.

Steingut said he based his opposition on three points. There already are civil laws that can be applied, college administrators often can take appropriate action and there would be an "unusual burden" on poorer students, he maintained.

The bill to come before the Assembly is sponsored by Republican Alvin Suchin of Dobbs Ferry, Westchester County. It now is awaiting action in the Assembly Education Committee.

The Senate measure was sponsored by John E. Flynn of Yonkers, also a Republican.

It's prime mover in that house, however, was Earl W. Brydges, the powerful Republican majority leader, who introduced similar legislation last year in the aftermath of the disturbances at Columbia University.

In arguing for the new bill Tuesday, Brydges said he was "sick and tired of this concept of sanctuary on the campus."

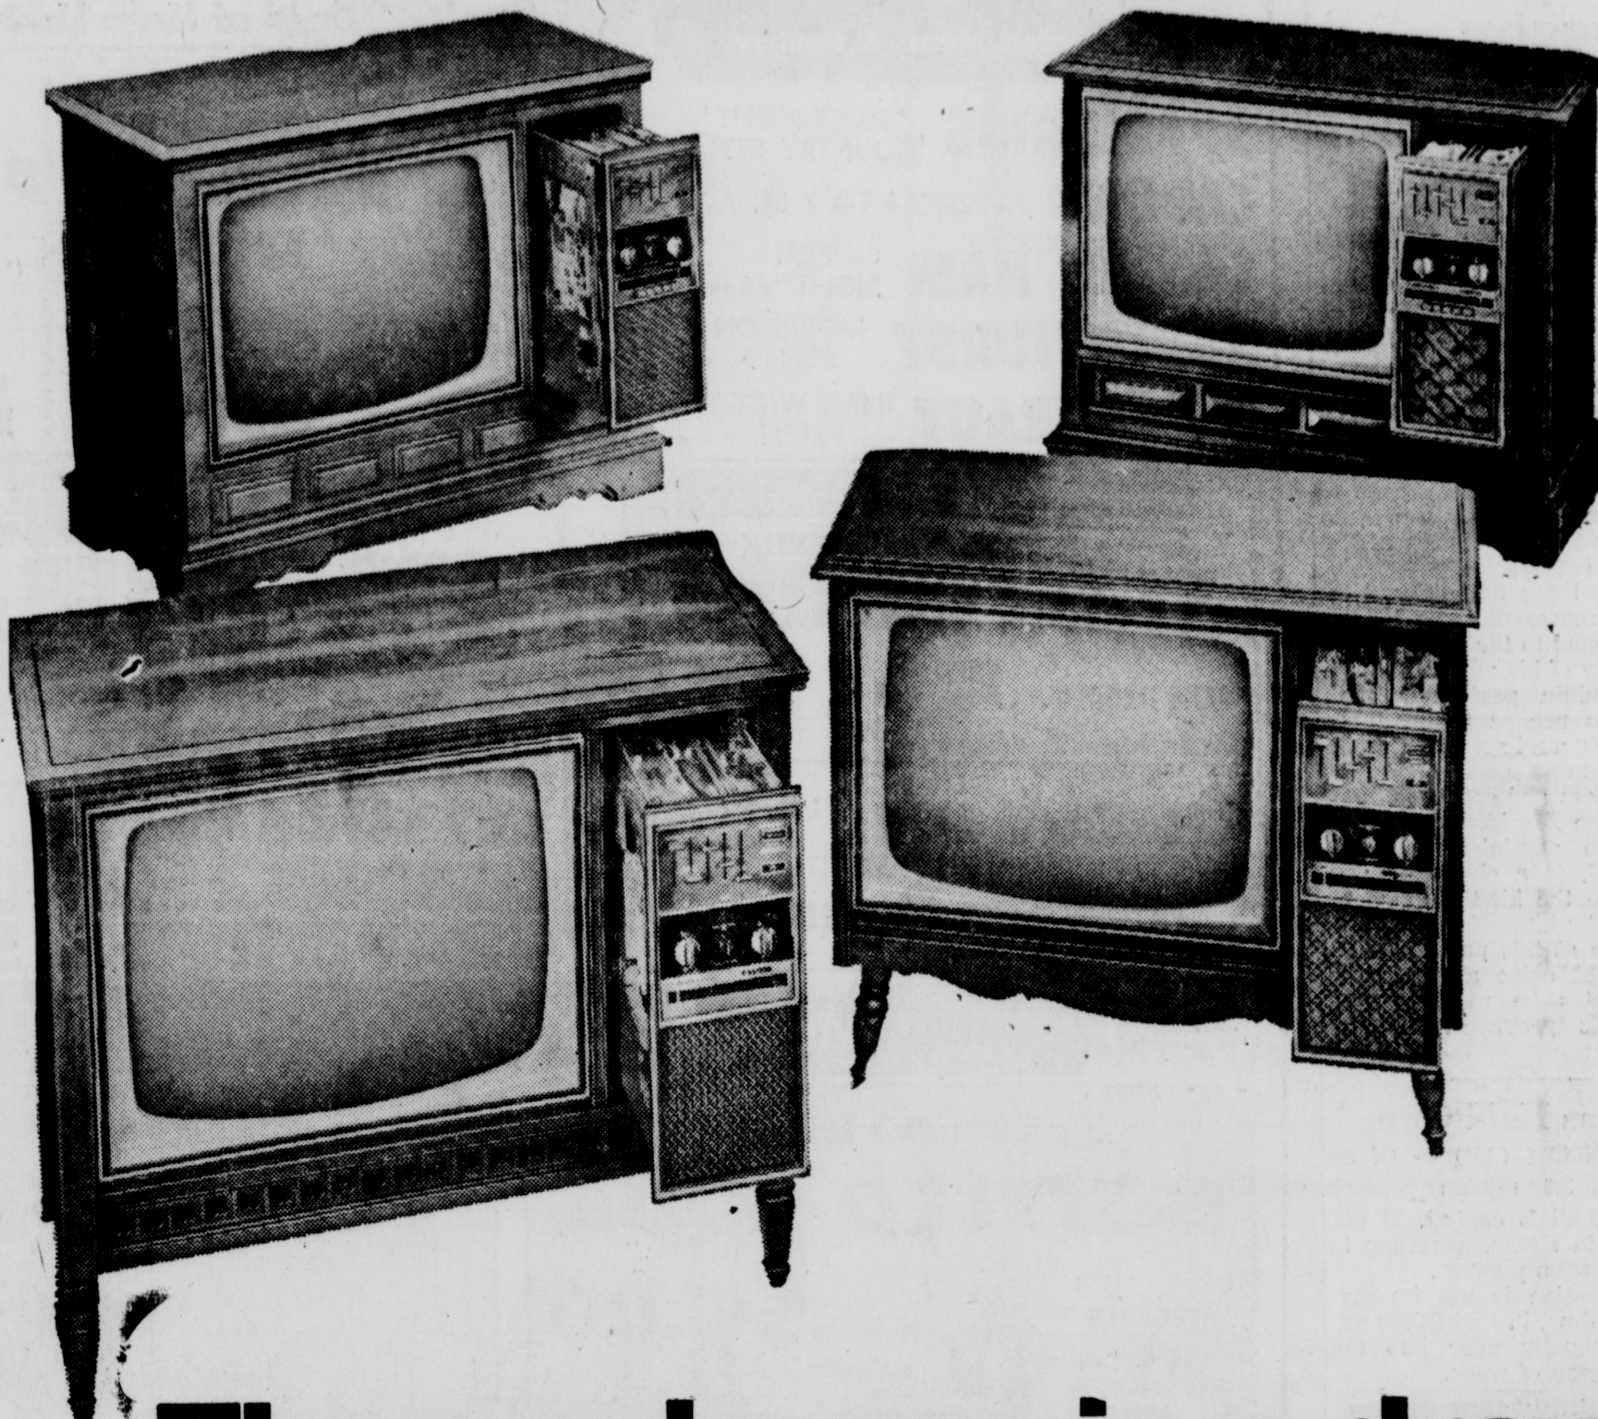

"We've tried to reach the administration of our public and private colleges to get them to run orderly institutions, but everybody's timid and fearful," he charged.

Democrat Seymour Thaler of Queens denounced the bill as racist, saying most SEEK students at the City University of New York are Negro or Puerto Rican.

In his oratorical assault, Thaler declared:

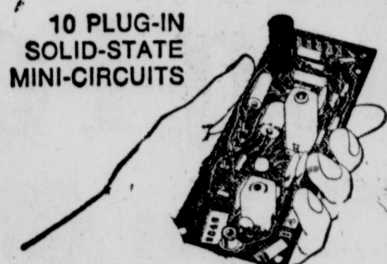

"Martin Luther King was arrested 17 times. Under this bill, he would not qualify for a state scholarship."

HEART AWARDS — In a ceremony at the White House Tuesday, President Nixon presented the American Heart Association awards to two workers in heart research (TOP) Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston and (BOTTOM) Dr. Irving H. Page, director emeritus of research at Cleveland's Clinic Foundation. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Two Speculated As Bliss Successor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of Maryland Congressman Rogers C. B. Morton and former football coach Charles "Bud" Wilkinson were prominent today in speculation over a new Republican national chairman.

President Nixon, however, apparently intends to wait until returning from his European trip early March before naming a replacement for Ray Bliss.

Bliss, who served as national chairman for four years, told Nixon in a letter released by the White House Tuesday that he plans to resign by mid-April and return to his insurance business in Akron, Ohio.

Morton aides said he remains in the dark about whether he will be offered the assignment. Morton himself declined comment.

A Nixon associate who predicted shortly after the November election that Bliss was on his way out, named Morton and Wilkinson, former University of Oklahoma football coach and now GOP national committee man from that state, as front-runners.

This associate said Wilkinson, now serving the Nixon administration as an advisor primarily on youth affairs, tentatively was offered the job at one point but the signals were changed.

"As of now," he said, "I think Morton has the inside track. But I wouldn't rule out Wilkinson or even somebody else."

Morton, brother of former National Chairman and former Sen. Thurston B. Morton, served as Nixon's floor manager at the 1968 convention. Wilkinson, a football expert for ABC television, managed many of Nixon's campaign tv appearances.

Nixon answered Bliss's letter with one of his own praising Bliss for "a job extraordinarily well done."

When the national committee met here Jan. 17, Nixon sent a message saying Bliss' "skill in rebuilding our party from its low fortunes four years ago to its present strength has been unmatched in the history of Republican leadership."

Despite these amenities, Nixon was represented as having come around to the viewpoint of a majority of his advisers that a better public performer than Bliss was needed to head the party organization. Bliss shunned news conferences, tv appearances and speeches.

What the President is looking for, some administration officials said, is a chairman who can make the kind of partisan speeches he himself hesitates to undertake at this point because they might drive away Democratic votes he needs to put across his programs in Congress.

Slums Hold Own

NEW DELHI (AP) — Of an estimated 3.8 million persons living in India's capital, 75 per cent live in slums, according to an Indian town planner. The situation is not improving, he claims, in that 50,000 migrants annually pour into the city in search of work.

For European Tour Security for Nixon -- 6 - Nation Effort

LONDON (AP)—Police of something weird if they got the six nations, working under understandable tension, are completing plans to protect President Nixon against organized demonstrators and individual fanatics and screwballs during his European tour.

In Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Italy, security agents are charting routes, vantage points for potential assassins, assembly points for demonstrators and compiling lists of local "nuts" who might do they intend to give the President a hot time in London. Edward Davoren, secretary of the Revolutionary Student Federation, claims that 50 organizations have formed a "Hot Reception for Nixon Committee."

He promised 60,000 at one demonstration before the U.S. Embassy on Monday, before Nixon's arrival.

London police will as usual be out in force with their familiar truncheons as the President moves about London. But the Home Office has issued special permission for American security officers attached to the President to carry guns.

Paris police are planning the same protection for Nixon that they give President Charles de Gaulle. That is considerable.

Police will line roads and streets, spaced 50 yards apart. Firemen and police will be stationed on rooftops. Plainclothesmen will mingle with the crowds. Traffic will be stopped on the presidential routes, and Nixon's motorcade will travel at very high speed. Any unusual assembly will be promptly broken up, and not too gently at that.

Bonn and West Berlin present special problems in the light of their proximity to Communist East Germany as well as the presence of energetic leftist students from many countries who attend West German universities.

West Berlin will have 13,000 uniformed police on standby with possibly half on special duty. American troops and public safety officers will be mobilized as well.

But no trouble is expected from East Berlin. The Soviets have a habit of telling their satellite to cool it when such a personage as an American president is in town. Hotheads in West Berlin may be inspired by Communist propaganda but they won't have Kremlin support.

Rome is expecting some flurry of protest but only from Marxist extreme leftists.

Hurley Mt. Proposal

State Gets Airport Plans Today

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON
The picture of Ulster County's proposed new airport at Hurley Mountain should clear somewhat "in about a month," at least in regards to cost, it was revealed Tuesday morning at a Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce breakfast.

The Chamber sponsored a discussion of Ulster's proposed airport, now in the final preliminary planning stages, at a breakfast in the Gov. Clinton Hotel. A capacity audience was on hand to hear Edward V. deGroff, a member of the Ulster County Airport Commission, and Christus J. Larios, of the engineering firm of Brinnier and Larios, outline plans for the airport.

Studies, Surveying Done
Larios said that preliminary plans would be submitted to state officials in Albany today for review and that cost estimates should be forthcoming in "about a month." The engineers have already completed topographical studies and surveying of the proposed site.

Larios and deGroff were preceded by a 15-minute color film by the Federal Aviation Administration entitled Airports in Perspective.

The film pointed out that: Air travel in the United States will double in five years, air freight will double in four years and that the number of planes will increase in the next four years from 100,000 to 140,000.

DeGroff proceeded Larios after which the discussion was thrown open to a question and answer session.

Not the Only One
DeGroff indicated that the Hurley Mountain site was not the only possibility for an airport. "It was the best site selected from a number of sites," he said. "But that doesn't mean that it will be the site."

DeGroff said that the federal government would pay for 50 per cent of the airport, the state 37.5 and the county 12.5. He added that those figures cover only the cost of land, runways and a terminal. Other costs such as hangars and access roads would be additional.

DeGroff added that Hurley would be an "ideal site" for the airport. "With the planes on the mountain, you won't even hear them coming and going in the village of Hurley," he said.

He said that the flight paths of the planes would not take them over Hurley, but probably over the Rt. 28 interchange to the north and well south of Kingston to the south.

Speaking of opposition in the Hurley area to the proposed airport, DeGroff said, "There's still a lot of questions to be answered in regard to access roads and total cost. Things could change. We're a long way off from the time we really have to fight about it."

Larios, who said he lives near the proposed site said he was not opposed to an airport near his home. "I didn't like it at first," he said. "But we've got to put personal feelings aside and put the welfare of the county first."

Larios said the Ulster airport would be designated as general utility, capable of handling planes of up to 12,000 pounds, or about 5,000 pounds payload. He said the runway at Hurley Mountain would be a maximum of 6,000 feet. This could handle small corporate jets, most private planes and small corporate freight planes.

Pro and Cons
He said that the Hurley site had the advantage of a low level of noise and lack of obstructions. It has an elevation of 700 feet. Disadvantages include high gusty winds and the possible high cost of development. He said the site is relatively flat but still requires extensive grading.

A question was raised as to the possibility of helicopter service from Kingston to New York City. Dr. Jeremiah Sachs, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said the Chamber had investigated that and found it economically unfeasible. He said the cost of a two-seater plane was about $7,500 while the cost of a two-seat helicopter was more than $80,000.

Larios ruled out the possibility of the proposed airport handling large freight planes. It had been noted that Gov. Rockefeller has recommended that all freight shipments be taken out of the New York area and flown into a new airport somewhere north of Poughkeepsie and south of Albany. It was judged that Dutchess County, due to its topography, would be a more likely area than the mountainous Ulster.

Finally, it was suggested that the Airport Commission conduct a program in public education on the need of an airport in Ulster. The Commission is chaired by Harry Kaprelian.

DeGroff said that the Hurley Mountain would be a maximum of 6,000 feet. This could handle small corporate jets, most private planes and small corporate freight planes.

He said that the Hurley site had the advantage of a low

Carnegie -- Helps Mind Stay Young

A provocative thought. How

We have but to look around us, no matter where we may live, and we can spot evidences of this great truth. We can see people young in years, but old in mind and spirit, simply because they allowed themselves to fall into a mental rut. They stopped exercising their minds; they stopped learning. Look just a little further. Pick out that vibrant, happy older man or lady who has lived more years than you, but is still young in spirit and comparatively young in body and mind. Study that person. You will probably find him, or her, to be one who is always looking for new experiences. One who is interested in things, and in people, and in life. You will probably find him to be a person who is constantly wanting to learn. He has exercised his mind. This is why youth has blessed him all these years and

Israel Mulls A Response

By United Press International

Israeli leaders conferred intensively today how to respond to Tuesday's Arab terrorist attack on an Ed Al jetliner in Zurich, Switzerland. U. N. Secretary-General U Thant pleaded with the Israelis not to retaliate.

Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, condemned the raid as "a despicable act of terrorism" encouraged by lenient world opinion toward previous Arab guerrilla acts. In Amman, Jordanian spokesmen said Israeli and Jordanian troops battled for 25 minutes in the northern Jordan Valley this morning. The Jordanians suffered no casualties, but "it is believed enemy forces suffered some," the spokesmen said.

Urgent Meetings In Jerusalem, urgent meetings of Israel's Defense Security and Commercial Aviation Security committees were expected. The second committee was formed after Arab terrorists shot up another El Al airliner at Athens Dec. 26. That raid brought a swift reprisal from Israeli commandos, who blew up 13 Middle Eastern airplanes at Beirut Airport two days later. The attack at Zurich Airport came as the airliner taxied down the runway for takeoff. Suddenly the Arabs opened up with bursts of machine gunfire that punctured the hull dozens of times and wounded six occupants. An airline security guard darted out of the plane and shot one of the terrorists dead. Swiss authorities held the other attackers, two men and a woman, pending formal charges.

Flown Out Today

The plane's passengers were to be flown out of Zurich today. Credit for the attack was claimed by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, which operates out of Jordan. It said the attack was retaliation against "savage actions" of Israeli occupation authorities. The same group claimed responsibility for the Athens attack that left one Israeli passenger dead.

At the United Nations Thant said he "hopes that this criminal act, dastardly as it is, will not be followed by an act of retaliation." In Washington, Deputy U.S. State Department spokesman Carl Bartsch said "The United States deeply regrets and deplores" the Zurich attack.

Two Men Jailed On Drug Charges

RHINEBECK

Two Connecticut men in the company of three 14-year-old girl runaways from Albany were stopped by State Police at 4 a. m. Tuesday in the Village of Rhinebeck. Subsequent drug charges lodged against the men resulted in jail sentences of 11 months and 27 days and an additional 89 days for each.

Albert Roy Vallee, 22 of Bethel, Conn. and John Bernard Zealor, 21 of Danbury, Conn. were stopped in a routine check by Rhinebeck State Troopers F. T. Petraglia and R. J. Coakley.

Zealor was observed by Petraglia to be acting in "a high, way-out manner." When confronted, Zealor stated he was "on a trip."

Marijuana was found on both Zealor and Vallee and amtrocol tablets were found in the car. A barbiturate, the tablets are a depressant and physically addicting, troopers said. A marijuana pipe was also found in the car.

Arraigned before Judge Frank B. Martin of Red Hook, the men pleaded guilty and were sentenced to the 11 months and 27 days on possession of drugs and the 89 days for possession of dangerous instruments. The terms are to be run concurrently in Dutchess County Jail.

The girls were turned over to juvenile authorities in Albany.

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — More than 2,000 head of cattle died on one farm alone during an unseasonal cold snap.

Town Board Accepts Easement on Property

SAUGERTIES To allow the laying of a 12-inch water line through this property so the project can be completed, LaSusa was asked if he would deed this portion of property to the town which would continue a 50-foot right-of-way from Willow Road to Barclay Lane. Upon LaSusa's refusal a request for an easement was made but this too was refused. Subsequent efforts were made to purchase this property but to no avail.

At this point the matter was turned over to the Town Attorney to start condemnation proceedings.

A public hearing on the matter was held last fall at Glasco fire house. It was duly advertised and afforded all residents of the district an opportunity to hear the details of the project completely explained by the engineering firm of Brinier and Laros and to voice their opinions. The majority of the persons at the hearing voiced their approval of the project and the Town Board proceeded accordingly. Turner said that it should be the duty of the elected officials to listen to the townspeople and meet their wishes when practicable for all concerned. He said that it is impossible for a project of this size not to cause inconveniences to some residents but it is certainly the aim of the Town Board to minimize this possibility.

Town Attorney Louis P. Francello was instructed to proceed with LaSusa on the easement.

Memoriam

In Memoriam Ann M. Apa Died February 19, 1968

Thus the spirit separates itself from the body and walks into the world of substance. Passing like clouds over the valleys of sorrow and mountains of happiness until it meets the breeze of death and returns to its starting place. The endless ocean of love and beauty which is God. (Kahlil Gibran)

WHAT DOES HONESTY MEAN TO US AT MOHICAN?

We feel honesty in dealing with meat is more than 16 oz. to the pound. For us to suggest a specific cut of meat we have to be absolutely sure that it will be of the best quality at the most reasonable price. All our meat has to pass two inspections, one by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture who will grade it choice, and then by our own personnel, which by the way is more rugged. This makes it the very Top Choice available. How do we back this statement up? We guarantee it!

This is what honesty means to us at Mohican!

A good reason to buy your meat at Mohican. . . . Just one of many. Check our sale prices above.

REV. JAMES V. KEATING

KINGSTON
A priest who has served St. Joseph's parish for more than 20 years has been named director of personal and community services for Catholic Charities in Ulster and Sullivan Counties. The Rev. James V. Keating will assume his new post this Saturday working out of offices in Kingston and Monticello, directing the two-county operation for the New York Archdiocese. Official announcement of the appointment was made Sunday at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City. Father Keating, well-known in the parish and the greater Kingston community, observed his 25th anniversary as a priest on May 1, 1968. He has been assistant pastor at the local parish since Sept. 18, 1948. Prior to that time he served two years at St. Mary's Church in Port Jervis and three years at St. Mary's in Rosebank, Staten Island. On the occasion of his Silver Jubilee, Father Keating was honored with a standing room only reception and dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Among gifts from grateful parishioners, he received a trip to Ireland, birthplace of both his parents.

Headed Drives
The role with Catholic Charities is a likely one as he has headed many a local drive for funds in the annual campaigns. As district manager of local appeals he has supervised parish collections to finance and expand welfare services to families, youth, the aged and the sick under Catholic Charities.

He has also served as county director for Catholic Charities and as regional director of the Christian Family Movement.

Early work with youth included stints as county Scout chaplain and, as spiritual director of a Catholic Travel League pilgrimage to the Oberammergau Passion Play and the shrines of Europe.

Arranged Visit
More recently, it fell to Father Keating to make all the arrangements for the first official visit of Archbishop Terence J. Cooke to Ulster County last spring. Although his Excellency had been a frequent visitor to the Mid-Hudson area in previous years it was his first call as Archbishop of the Archdiocese of New York and the first of his grass roots tours in his new capacity.

Father Keating aptly handled the matters of protocol attendant to the day including receptions throughout the county, dinner in Kingston and Mass at Dietz Stadium in the evening. Father Keating was born in New York Jan. 7, 1918 and entered Cathedral College, the junior seminary of the Archdiocese in the fall of 1931. After graduation in June, 1937 he entered the seminary and was ordained at St. Patrick's Cathedral on May 1, 1943.

TAP Holds 2 Career Seminars

NEW PALTZ
The Talented Art Program (TAP) of the Mid-Hudson Regional Supplementary Educational Center, New Paltz, has recently sponsored two career seminars in the arts for students presently participating in the program.

TAP is a federally funded innovation project under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and has among its principal objectives the identification of artistically talented students to whom it provides the opportunity for supplementary education in the studios of professional artists. The Career Seminars provided an additional experience for TAP students, their parents, art teachers, and guidance counselors, and informed them about many types of career opportunities in the arts.

The first seminar was held at the Duzine School, New Paltz. Approximately 60 people gathered to hear a professional panel of four members. Among the panelists were Ronald Burke, professional potter from Rock Tavern; Michael Zadro of the State University College, New Paltz, who spoke on the field of commercial art; Aldo Argiro, art teacher at the Montgomery Street School in Newburgh; and Dr. Henry Raleigh, chairman of the art division, State University College, New Paltz, who discussed educational requirements and opportunities for a variety of careers in the arts.

A second Career Seminar was held at the James V. Forrestal School in Beacon. The audience of 40 heard Eugene Fairbanks, art teacher at Roy C. Ketcham High School in Wappingers Falls; St. Julian Fishburne, museum conservator and art restorer of New Paltz; Larry Argiro, mosaicist and well-known art educator of the State University College, New Paltz; and Michael Zadro, who was also a member of the previous panel.

At both career seminars, each panel member gave a ten-minute talk on his own area of the art world. Afterwards, the audience broke up into small groups and met informally with panel members to ask further questions about education and careers in the arts.

Mrs. Irma E. Gray, director of the Talented Art Program, acted as moderator at both seminars. Inquiries regarding TAP activities may be addressed to Mrs. Gray, care of the Mid-Hudson Regional Supplementary Educational Center, 175 Route 32 North, New Paltz.

CBC Film Due For Showing In High Falls

HIGH FALLS
A Canadian Broadcasting Company documentary on High Falls' Camp Poison Ivy, a year-round camp for New York City youngsters, is scheduled to be shown at The Rock Cliff House on Route 213 here Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The first showing of the film outside of Canada, it is open to the public free of charge. The CBC visited the camp and photographed city youths as they spent one of their many weekends off city streets and in what they call their "second home," said Joseph Runner of the camp.

He said the public as well as the many supporters of the camp are invited to see the showing before it reaches American television viewers.

Works for Children

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Plump, bespectacled bus conductor Peter Geldenhuys, 27, has for the past eight years lavished most of his spare time and a good deal of his Rands 50 ($70) a week pay on Johannesburg's poor, orphaned and crippled children.

Each month he organizes parties, outings and entertainments for "his" children. At one party he had 1,500 children. His welfare work won "Tubby," as the children call him, the first Citizen of the Year award made in South Africa.

The city of Los Angeles was settled in 1781.

Clearer Understanding Sought in Open Letter

WOODSTOCK nately, it serves to point out, however, that limiting sign size Town Board by Richard C. or placement is not enough to Jeffery concerning zoning and make signs attractive.

The regulations controlling the sign placement now allow effective signs in the built up areas where there are many pedestrians and relatively slow vehicle traffic, but allow almost useless signs in the open rural areas with buildings well set back from the highway and traffic passing at high speeds. This discourages the outlying business locations or even eliminates them. I think it would be wiser instead, to encourage business to be less blatantly obvious even if it means they need more sign usage than now allowed.

"Woodstock has higher real estate values than our surrounding towns. Surely, some of this is due to the presence of public supported and financially successful activities in the arts. Our present laws will not encourage a rich development of this artistic activity in Woodstock. This will be our great loss."

"I feel that a large part of the public has assumed, as I heard one woman say, They won't do that, meaning really enforcing the present sign ordinance. I think we must assure ourselves of this fact. I'm afraid the general public doesn't realize the far reaching effects our present course can have for all of us."

"I would like to hereby ask for a well organized series of programs to allow the public to learn what these problems mean for them, enable them to discuss their many complications, and to make it possible to make changes in our laws if necessary to get the results we were striving for when we adopted zoning for Woodstock."

"Woodstock is different. I believe most of those who voted for zoning were concerned with our whole town to a larger extent than most other communities. I think they want to keep the character of our village and to preserve the small town beauty and way of life and business we have here."

"It is beginning to appear that an unforeseen result of the course we are now committed to is just the reverse of our intentions. We are forcing the village to absorb the bulk of business activity. This will put great economic pressure on the central village area to convert all residences to business sites. Their loss will destroy the very nature of Woodstock we are striving to preserve."

"The sign ordinance will make it foolish to try to operate any public service or business that is not located where the public will be able to readily see it. This means locating on the main artery, eventually giving us a form of commercial strip development in the areas allowed in the present zoning laws. Even if done attractively, I don't think this is a desirable condition for Woodstock."

"I believe there are few who would defend the uncontrolled sign blight in areas like parts of Rt. 17 in New Jersey or even parts of Ulster County's Rt. 9W and Rt. 28. Signs, however, do not have to be large or numerous to be unsightly. From an aesthetic standpoint, I find the small 'No Hunting' or 'No Trespassing' signs on beautiful wooded areas most offensive. I realize that in many cases there is no good alternative unfortunately."

Woodstock Vols At Zena Plan Meeting Mar. 4

WOODSTOCK A special meeting of Woodstock Fire Company No. 4 at Zena is being held Tuesday, March 4 at 7:30 p.m., to formulate plans for the annual bazaar to be held in the summer. This was announced by Glen Diehm, bazaar co-chairman, at the regular meeting on February 10. This is the major fund-raising project of the year and all members are invited to help in the planning stages.

The house grounds committee report included a timetable for the proposed building expansion and building improvements, including storm windows and parking signs.

Other business included an appropriation made to help sponsor a baseball team in the local Babe Ruth League. A demonstration by Eugene Phillips in the use of oxygen equipment followed adjournment.

Name Leo Garel President of King's Knights

King's Knight Chess Club of Woodstock-Kingston elected Leo Garel of Woodstock its new president at its recent meeting. Other officers elected were: William Wetterer of Woodstock, secretary; Nathan Katatsky of Kingston, treasurer; Eugene Meyer, chairman of activities. The club, which meets Friday nights at Deanie's, will not convene during February, while Deanie's is closed.

The new chairman of activities announced a five-round Swiss tournament, open to all.

Special Course Will Replace Lent Services

WOODSTOCK The churches of Woodstock are uniting in an ecumenical venture which will replace the traditional mid-week Lenten services this year.

Beginning Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m. the Woodstock Laymen's School will offer five courses taught by the pastors of the community.

The courses are as follows: "The Parables"—taught by the Rev. Donald Hicks, Woodstock Reformed Church; "American Church History"—taught by the Rev. Steven Middernacht, Christ's Lutheran Church; "Biblical Theology"—taught by the Rev. David W. Arnold, St. Gregory's Episcopal Church; "Contemporary Religious Problems"—taught by the Rev. Maurice Walsh, St. Joan's Roman Catholic Church; "Biblical Geography"—taught by the Rev. James Cook, Overlook United Methodist Church.

At 8:30 p.m. there will be a break for coffee and conversation, followed by a forum at 9 p.m. where discussions will center around a comparative study of the various branches of the Christian Churches in Woodstock. Each of the five pastors will have an evening to present his particular denomination, after which members of the audience will be able to ask questions of the speaker.

The School will run for five consecutive Wednesday nights beginning on Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m. All courses will be taught at Overlook United Methodist Church. There will be a registration fee. Everyone is invited and may register by calling any of the churches of Woodstock. Registrations will be accepted at the door.

China Watchers Offer Program To LWV Meet

WOODSTOCK ning's program which included the kick-off for membership Members and guests of Woodstock League of Women Voters were treated to a lucid and stimulating discussion by the study group calling themselves the "China Watchers" at the February meeting of the League last Wednesday night at St. Gregory's parish hall. This discussion was part of the evening's program which included the kick-off for membership drive.

The program was preceded by a social hour and tasting dessert. Mrs. John Wood opened the drive with a brief history of the League. She told of some of the memorable achievements of the Child Labor Law, the Pure Food and Drug Act, and the

Both the American Red Cross standard and advanced courses will be given in sequence so that one or both courses may be taken. A standard course graduate is eligible for advanced training.

Rotron Manufacturing Company has generously donated its Engineering Conference Room in its Woodstock offices on Hasbrouck Lane.

Everyone is welcome to join the course which is given without fee as one of the American Red Cross' services to the community.

long support of the United Nations. One of the interests of the League is also a problem facing the nation and the U.N., the question of Communist China. Mrs. Alan Cox assisted by members of the study group, Mrs. Charles Weidman, Mrs. Thomas Horsey, Mrs. Larry Moss and Mrs. Fred Cochran provided the background for a discussion of present problems by telling the long history leading up to the take over of this great mass of people by the Communists.

They told of advantages and the dangers of trade with China, considered what should be U. S. relationship with those countries who do trade and even resell U. S. products to China, and posed the question of the future position of the country when the periodic plea for admission of Red China occurs at the U. N., and about two Chinas, the mainland and Taiwan.

Baptisms Held On Feb. 16, at the Overlook United Methodist Church in Woodstock the Rev. James W. Cook, baptized Debra Elaine Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Brown, and Andrew Christian Rank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rank.

On Ash Wednesday at 7 p.m., a one-hour study session on the Sermon on the Mount will be held in the church parlor, for all members of the church.

Money, Effort Keys In Draft Cut Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon planners say the draft ultimately could be cut to just a few hundred men a month if enough money and effort are spent on recruiting, improving morale and polishing the services' image.

While more money is important, the officials say a higher pay scale won't be enough alone to attract and hold the volunteers needed even when the Vietnam war ends and U.S. forces are cut by 700,000 men.

"What is needed, they contend, is a multifaceted drive to 'improve morale and job satisfaction," to burnish the "overall service image" and stage an intensive recruiting effort.

If this works out, then the draft could be used mostly to obtain doctors and other specialists.

However, some senior Pentagon officials would regard it a

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened mixed today in fairly active trading.

Some recovery could be near following the sharp selloff of the past two sessions. However, the news background still is rather bleak, except for some cheery corporate earnings reports.

Concern over the Middle East and Vietnam, and doubts by the Nixon administration about budget surpluses for fiscal 1969 and 1970 could extend the two-day decline.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI stock market indicator showed a gain of 0.25 per cent on 275 issues crossing the tape. There were 115 advances and 86 declines.

SISTER DONATES KIDNEY—Nancy (L) and her sister Mary Ann Sinisi smile happily as Nancy was visited by her family after surgeons at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital completed a kidney transplant operation involving the twins from North Bergen, New Jersey. The donor, Mary Ann, and her sister Nancy both 21 years old are in satisfactory condition. The two came to Boston last summer but the operation was postponed for fear of legal complications relating to a minor "depriving her of a vital organ." (UPI TELEPHOTO)

State Police Approve 1st Work Contract

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — State Police, voting for the first time on salary plans and employment conditions, have overwhelmingly approved the first work contract in their 52-year history.

The results of a secret ballot were announced Tuesday by negotiators for Gov. Rockefeller and for the state Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

The approved contract would take effect April 1, but must still be approved by the legislature.

According to Abe Levine, state director of employee relations, the ratification vote was 84-9 among noncommissioned officers and 1,557 - 878 among troopers, both in favor.

Levine said the pact provides for salary raises of about five and one-half per cent for each of two years and increased overtime, vacation and retirement benefits.

The troopers gained the right to bargain collectively in 1967 when the Taylor Law took effect.

OKs Orange Grant

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Governor Rockefeller announced approval Tuesday of a $34,500 pure waters construction grant for a sewage treatment plant to serve the Orange County Home near Goshen.

MV Clerk Charged

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Robert J. Peat, 38, a clerk for the State Motor Vehicle Department, was to be arraigned today on charges of promoting gambling and possessing book-making records.

Peat, of Cohoes, was arrested Monday by State Police as he worked at the Motor Vehicle Department. He pleaded guilty to the two counts, both misdemeanors.

Police said Peat had eight slips of papers indicating placement of 53 wagers on horses at racetracks.

Hike for Judges

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The Erie County Legislature today accepted a recommendation from its government affairs committee to raise the salary of County Court judges to $31,500. The previous salary of the judges was $28,500.

Spada to Emcee For Young GOP

KINGSTON County Clerk Albert Spada will serve as master of ceremonies for the Ulster County Young Republican Club's ninth annual cocktail party and dance to be held at the Gov. Clinton Hotel March 1.

The affair will be at 9 p. m. in the Crystal Room with dancing music provided by Johnny Knapp and his society orchestra, according to Rosemarie Wolff, chairman.

Honored guests will include chairman of the county legislature, Peter Savago of New Paltz, and Woodstock civic leader Mrs. Monroe (Adele) Longendyke.

Committees for the event include: Special arrangements, Floyd Greer, Norman Fowler; tickets, Judie Petro and Dorothy Pisano; presentation, Mrs. Patricia Kelley and Mrs. Patricia Pratt; publicity and entertainment, Richard T. Cahill; correspondence, Mrs. Mary Wynne Eggleston and Susan Marone.

Small-Mobile-Home Producer
For High-Risk Accounts

Q—I would appreciate information about Monarch Industries. Although I have heard that it shows promise I have been unable to secure any information on the company.—R.R.

A—Monarch, a mobile-home producer, since its initial public offering last June at $6.50 has moved up sharply, split two-for-one and is recently quoted in the upper 20s. Prices are reported in weekly over-the-counter lists published in the Wall Street Journal. In the year ended June 30, 1968, the company earned 54 cents per share—adjusted for the split—on sales of $12.5 million. In the first quarter of the current fiscal year, sales reached $4.6 million with earnings of 19 cents.

Three mergers, either completed or in progress, could add 115 million to sales and provide plant space needed to meet growing demand.

One of the companies manufactures kitchen furnishings required in fitting out mobile homes. Shares are priced at about 25x current year estimated results, a fair P/E for this industry. Nevertheless this is comparatively small operator in an aggressively competitive industry. Therefore, shares are highly speculative.

Q—I am a widow looking for more income. Dividends on my portfolio work out to a little over 4 per cent. Would you suggest changes to better this rate?—J.S.

A—In order to better your income you will have to sacrifice growth. But with two-thirds of your capital still in common stocks which offer some appreciation potential as well as an adequate dividend, you can afford to switch three of your holdings to straight income issues.

The $690 in annual dividends you now receive can be increased to $1,400 by switching American Home preferred, Corn Products and Woolworth in Baltimore Gas & Electric 7s of 1998 and Florida Power and Light 7s of 1998. This move will give you a yield closer to 5 1/2 per cent.

Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 6, St. Joseph's School, led by Mrs. Adelard Angers, rehearse a Japanese dance for the Girl Scouts International Festival to be held at Kingston High School Feb. 21. Mrs. Fumiko Gamache acted as consultant in helping the troop prepare for the festival. Running through their kimono capers are (L-R) Meg Gardiner, Maria Jubie, Deanne Bradley and Giselle Pastick. The program sponsored by the Kingston and Ulster-Hurley Neighborhoods of the Ulster County Girl Scout Council marks the 57th anniversary of Girl Scouting in America. Approximately 50 troops will participate in the event which will conclude with presentation of the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Scouts Set for 57 Fete

KINGSTON
Area Girl Scout troops of the Kingston and Ulster-Hurley Neighborhoods will jointly celebrate the 57th anniversary of Girl Scouting in America with an International Festival Program at the Kingston High School Auditorium on Friday, Feb. 21, at 1:30 p.m.
All of the local troops will take part in the program with a parade of flags representing the many countries throughout the world which have a scouting program. Feb. 22 is also celebrated throughout the world as International Thinking Day in honor of the birthday of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, founders of scouting. Lady Baden-Powell will also celebrate her 80th birthday this year. It was her friendship with Juliette Gordon Low which brought about the formation of the first Girl Scout troop in Savannah March 12, 1912.
During the past few months many of the scout troops have participated in special studies of the customs, of their chosen country, which they will demonstrate for other troops, friends and parents. William Sacher, well-known radio personality will serve as announcer for the program which will include songs, dances, games and authentic costumes of many countries, as well as group singing and the annual presentation of the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund.
Mrs. Adelard Angers and Mrs. Neil Ryder are acting chairmen of the program with the constant support of leaders too numerous to mention. Approximately 50 troops are expected to participate.
The Ulster County Community Chest supports the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts and they are taking this means of thanking the community for their support. The program is open to the public.

IBM Manager Lauds Ulster For Snow Job

TOWN OF ULSTER
The Town of Ulster Highway Department was commended in a letter received last week from F. Delaney, Neighborhood Road. Delaney, who is general manager of International Business Machines Corp., Kingston, said: "I would like to commend the Town Highway Department for the terrific job done in clearing all the roads during the recent snowstorm. I was not only impressed with the condition of the roads in the area I live in but also very impressed with the condition of roads taken by me on my way to work the following morning."
Town of Ulster Supervisor Thaddeus Musialkiewicz, commenting on the letter, said the Highway Department men are a dedicated group and have always done a good job for the public. The Highway Department has the most modern equipment and is under the excellent supervision of Edgar P. Elliott, town superintendent of highways, the supervisor said.

Dutchess Reptile Institute Has All Kinds

By LYNN MULVANEY

RHINEBECK — "Kingston and Rhinebeck — they're good copperhead country," says Peter Montfort of Rhinebeck. Peter should know too, for he has a houseful of more than 100 reptiles including snakes, lizards, alligators, a crocodile and, oh yes, one delightful little chimp called, "Annie."

Not all inhabitants of the Montfort Reptile Institute are delightful however. In fact most of them are downright deadly including the famed King Cobra, the Puff Adder and the peach and black Gila monster, the last of a family of reptiles that goes back 40 million years.

Classes of school children and others have been touring the new facility on Schultz Hill Road off Rt. 96, Rhinebeck, for a little over a month now. A visit to the institute includes a lecture and conducted tour presented in an entertaining manner, with emphasis on familiarizing the public with ophiophiles and removing fear, replacing it with understanding of all snakes including the four lethal serpents of the United States.

Creative Decor

For those who think of snakes and reptiles in terms of ugliness, Peter and his father Charles Montfort have created a markedly beautiful and creative decor throughout the new building providing many natural looking backgrounds in which to place their specimens.

All snakes and reptiles are housed behind glass in settings of either jungle, grass or rock habitats with indirect lighting as well as shafts of natural sub-light playing through colored glass upon the vegetation.

The visitor feels entirely safe even though the Montforts, both experts in their field may be spinning true tales of the lethality of various species.

"I haven't been bitten YET!" says Peter, yet meaning that since all snake handlers eventually make mistakes, he will too. Peter's father, who worked for many years with the Miami, Fla. Serpentarium was bitten in 1956 and although he recovered he suffered tremendous swelling of the hand, intense pain and shock.

Experts in Their Field

Both Peter and his Dad have taught reptile safety and survival to members of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps and are considered experts in their field.

"We never handle the King Cobra alone," Peter says. "The Puff Adder is dangerous too. It is spotted in black and a skin with his nose and crawls out turning the skin inside out on eggs, small rodents and as he goes. Rattlesnakes have no ear openings and can't hear but their tongue picks up vibrations therefore he even sheds the skin three or four times a year has tip of his tongue.

The Cobra which sheds its skin tions therefore he even sheds the skin three or four times a year has tip of his tongue. For those who prefer the non-poisonous snakes, there are the ding.

Saying that snakes are a secretive lot that prefer to stay out of sight whenever possible, Montfort describes their venom as being either hemo-toxic attacking the blood cells, or neuro-toxic attacking the central nervous system causing a short circuit which knocks out the respiratory system.

It was the very venomous Cotton Mouth Water Moccasin which bit Peter's Dad. Such snakes can be seen at the Institute as can a 9-foot Python, Boa Constrictor, a native of the Amazon River Basin which runs up to 35-foot in length and a Nile Crocodile which will grow to 16 feet and become man-eating, fast, vicious and aggressive. Montfort expects that by the time the crocodile reaches this stage the institute will be able to facilitate keeping him.

Many more are to be seen too — the Iguana Lizard, a pretty avocado green with "kind" eyes, the Poisonous Beaded Lizard which is spotted in black and a skin with his nose and crawls out turning the skin inside out on eggs, small rodents and as he goes. Rattlesnakes have no ear openings and can't hear but their tongue picks up vibrations therefore he even sheds the skin three or four times a year has tip of his tongue.

The Cobra which sheds its skin tions therefore he even sheds the skin three or four times a year has tip of his tongue. For those who prefer the non-poisonous snakes, there are the ding.

The Montforts include in their ends, the institute is also available information on snake bite treatment a feeling that "each time, by appointment. Children will especially delight in being greeted by a baby snake in his wild state and chimpanzee named Annie who loves to show off her ability to play peek-a-boo, turn lights on and off and play with toys.

Open to the public on week- and off and play with toys.

ANNIE — Visitors to the Montfort Reptile Institute are greeted by Annie, a baby chimp brought from Africa to Rhinebeck recently to entertain. She does her job well too. Annie, one year old still sits in a high chair, drinks from a baby bottle and plays peek-a-boo at the mere suggestion of fun and games. When she reaches full growth she will weigh about 130-140 pounds. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

DEADLY KING COBRA — One drop of the King Cobra's venom is enough to kill and he can project up to 90 drops at a time, says Peter Montfort, who with his father operates the Montfort Reptile Institute in Rhinebeck. The cobra pictured is native to India, Siam and one section of Vietnam. The Explorers club calls it the most dangerous of animals. No one survives an attack more than 15 minutes. Even elephants succumb to its lethality. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Cavin Duo Wins Bridge Tourney

KINGSTON

Mr. and Mrs. James Cavin led the play at the Jewish Community Center's Duplicate Bridge Club recently, scoring 64 per cent on the East-West side. Runners-up on the same side were Dr. John A. Olivet and Joseph Mautner with 61 per cent. Stanley King and Joseph Zahitla came in third with 57 and Fred Stern and Robert Wiley followed in fourth with 54. Winning the North-South side was the team of Arthur Anderson and William Russ with 60 per cent. They were followed by Max Lawrence and Dr. Murray J. Fletcher's second of 57½ per cent. Ed Ristom and Jim Craven showed third with 57, while Robert Leheld and Abe Black scored 53 for fourth place. Twenty-two boards were in play on the 11-table Mitchell movement. A regular ratings-point game will be held on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the center on Maiden Lane. A novice game will be held for players with less than 20 Master Points on Monday at 7:30 p.m. A new session of a Beginners' Refresher Course will start on Feb. 26 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Polka Party Slated March 1

POUGHKEEPSIE

The Polish-American Citizens Club's Pacers Drum and Bugle Corps will present its annual Polka Party and Ball at the State Armory in Poughkeepsie on March 1 starting at 8 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by Stanky and his Pennsylvania Coal Miners as well as Jimmy Sturr and a special exhibition by the Pacers. Dancing will continue until 1 a.m. Refreshments will be served. Tickets may be obtained from club representatives.

High Falls

Several relatives and friends from here attended the Ayers-Griggs wedding in the Reformed Church in New Paltz Saturday. Mr. Ayers is from High Falls and presently is home on leave after a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Mrs. Oliver Bogart, son Oliver Jr. and daughter, Miss Lillian Bogart of Stone Ridge, called on Mrs. Roy Ransom Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson spent the weekend skiing at Mt. Stowe, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Jeroline of Staten Island spent the weekend with Mrs. Jeroline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Schoonmaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Homfeld have returned to High Falls after 10 years in Port Ewen and Kingston. They moved into the former Feinburg house. Their daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore Jr. and the Steven Ceas of Port Ewen, visited Saturday and attended the Hoe-Down at the fire house.

Both the dance and the snowmobile races held on the Robert Gannon property were well attended. Both events were part of the many events to be held in the hamlet this year in commemoration of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of High Falls. Many former residents were seen among participants at both the dance and the races. The dance was sponsored by the High Falls Fire Company Ladies Auxiliary and was so successful that they have planned another one for May 10.

Lenten services begin this week at the Reformed Church. There will be a series of such services each Thursday evening at 7:30. These services are combined efforts by the Rev. Robert Clementz, pastor of the Marbletown Reformed Church; the Rev. Clair F. Yehe, pastor of the High Falls Church, and the Rev. Wallace Randall, pastor of the Rondout United Methodist Church. The services will alternate among the three churches.

Ash Wednesday services will be held at the High Falls Church and the Feb. 27 service at the Rondout United Methodist Church in Stone Ridge.

The High Falls Reformed Church is sponsoring a Women's Communion-Breakfast March 2 starting at 7:30 a.m. The three churches are cooperating in this venture. All women are welcome. Mrs. Ernest Jansen and Mrs. William Pratt are co-chairmen and Sister Margaret Charles, Administrator of the Benedictine Hospital, will be the guest speaker.

A Confirmation Class for anyone 12 years or older who wishes instruction on church membership is being started Sunday mornings following worship hour at 11:15 a.m.

Changes Names

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The "Honey Fitz" and the "Patrick J." are now the "Julie" and the "Patricia." President Nixon announced the name changes for the two presidential yachts during the weekend. The old names were given the cabin cruises by President Kennedy, in honor of his grandfathers. Nixon decided to rename the boats after his daughters.

PREPAREDNESS — Tokyo workmen construct a wall of corrugated metal sheeting around the Diet (Japanese parliament) Building (background). The government ordered construction of the wall in anticipation of radical student demonstrations that might accompany talks on the Japanese-American security treaty. That treaty is subject to review in 1970 and any action on the treaty will be preceded by discussions in the Diet. (UPI RADIOTELEPHOTO).

Mexican-American Will Head the SBA

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has decided on a Mexican-American to head one of the main component agencies of his proposed "black capitalism" program.

Capitol Hill sources told UPI the President finally settled on Hilary Sandoval, 39, an El Paso, Tex., businessman, to head the 2.65 billion Small Business Administration (SBA).

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., was the chief backer of Sandoval for the $40,000-a-year post.

Sandoval has been under top consideration to head the SBA for weeks. His credentials are considered first rate.

His ethnic background fulfills Nixon's campaign promise to bring Spanish-speaking Americans into the government.

—He took a moribund family news distributorship and built it into a more than $1 million a year business.

He served as a GOP county chairman and Nixon's campaign manager for West Texas.

Sandoval graduated from the University of Arizona and attended the University of Mexico and Texas Tech. He served as a U.S. Army intelligence officer. He also was a member of the Small Business Advisory Council in Lubbock, Tex.

As SBA administrator, Sandoval will oversee about 4,200 employees working in 62 regional offices, 8 area offices and 12 branch offices. SBA has total lending authority of $2.65 billion with limitations on direct individual loans of $100,000, $150,000 on loans in which it participates with private lenders, and $350,000 on bank loans on which it guarantees 90 per cent.

Civil Service Exam

March 7 is the last day for filing applications for an open competitive examination by Ulster County Civil Service Commission for the position of sewage treatment plant operator in the Village of Ellenville. The test will be held April 12. Salary for the position is $2.50 per hour. There is one vacancy. Further information, on applications may be secured at the Civil Service Office in the county office building, Main and Fair Streets, Kingston.

Soviets Agree To Czechs Talks On Damages

PRAGUE (UPI)—The Soviets have agreed to negotiate with Czechoslovakia over compensation for damage to the occupied nation during the invasion last summer, authoritative sources said today.

However, the Soviets are not likely to pay for more than partial destruction, the sources said.

They said the groundwork for such talks was laid in recent diplomatic exchanges between the two countries, but added there were major differences on the amount.

The best estimate of loss caused by the Soviet-led invasion in August was about $226 million, but the sources said it was highly unlikely the Soviets would pay anything close to that amount.

The Soviets declared they were willing to pay only for "direct damages," the sources said. The Czechoslovaks also reportedly have demanded compensation for the staggering economic losses caused by idled factories, disruption in raw material supplies and other production deficits.

The sources said "direct damage" amounted to a tiny fraction of the total losses. It would include highway pavement chewed up by tank treads, parks damaged by troops who bivouacked in them for a month, buildings sprayed by gunfire and crops destroyed by military vehicles.

The economic costs included lost production, cancellation of contracts by Western firms and severe disruption of tourism.

The sources offered no recent figures on the loss estimates, but three weeks after the Aug. 20-21 invasion the Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo said it surpassed 1,626 million Czechoslovak crowns, or $226 million.

The "direct damages" reported then were estimated at only about 8 million crowns, or $104,000.

That estimate probably increased as officials were allowed to inspect areas vacated by troops later in the month.

Planetarium Show at College

NEW PALTZ — Dr. John R. Kirk, Planetarium director at State University College, New Paltz, has announced the second in a series of planetarium shows which will be open to the public without charge.

Called "Planet Promenade," the show will be held in the Main Auditorium February 26 and March 5 and 12 at 8 p.m., and featured "a rapid and colorful survey of the planets of the solar system. Kirk said the show would also include "breathtaking color views of Earth from outer space."

On March 26, he said, the program will change to "The Spring Sky," which will survey the constellations Taurus, Orion, Gemini, Cassiopea, Ursa Major, Ursa Minor, Draco, Bootes and a host of others.

"The Spring Sky" will also be shown April 23 and 30.

"Circus in the Sky," a show designed especially for the very young audience, will be presented May 7 and 14.

Kirk said each program lasts about an hour.

Killed by Car — BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — John Turk, 73, was killed Tuesday when he stepped out of a parked automobile on Clinton Street into the path of another car, police said.

WILL RETIRE — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., announced that he will retire from the Senate when his term expires in 1971. Williams, a fourth-term member, is ranking Republican of the Senate Finance Committee and a lone wolf investigator. His inquiries produced major investigations of the Internal Revenue Service in the 1950s and the Robert G. "Bobby" Baker probe in 1963. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

WASHINGTON (AP) — A dairy representative, warning of nutritional harm to children and financial loss to dairy farmers, has called on a congressional committee to continue the federal school milk program.

John C. York, general manager of the Eastern Milk Producers Association, told the Agriculture Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives Tuesday that a budgetary proposal to end the school milk program would cost dairymen $29 million.

Former President Johnson's final budget message called for an end to the program.

The milk producers association is based in Syracuse, N.Y.

Proposes Albany Union Station As Museum Site

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Sen. Albert B. Lewis, D-Brooklyn, requested Tuesday that the landmark Union Station in Albany be considered by the governor as a site for the proposed museum and library at the Albany South Mall state office complex.

The $36 million library and museum was a subject of controversy earlier this month as the $223.9 million deficiency budget was approved.

Lewis described the former railroad station building as "an excellent representative of classic architecture and a landmark of the great days of railroad travel."

School Named For Dr. King

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — A predominantly Negro, inner-city school became the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Elementary School today in honor of the Nobel peace prize winning slain civil rights leader.

The city board of education Tuesday evening voted unanimously to change the name from Croton School to its new designation, effective immediately.

The school has a capacity of about 1,000 students.

City Lab Book Center Marks 18th Service Year

KINGSTON The Medical Library of the City of Kingston Laboratory became eighteen years old in 1968. Like the much publicized "teenager," it experienced growing pains of change and frustration.

The change which affected the library most was the loss of teenage patrons. Since 1960, one of the most rewarding experiences of Evelyn Thomas, the librarian, was the contact with student nurses, Community College students and High School seniors.

Each year first year nursing students were introduced to the librarian who explained the resources of the Medical Library. High school seniors and Community College students were "lost" too. The disappearance of the young people is explained by the anticipated discontinuance of the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing and the removal of Community College to Stone Ridge.

Apparently the High School Library holdings have been increased to include material students need for their English and Science term reports.

The major frustrations experienced were those connected with computers.

Receipt of several Journals was sporadic. Copies of one periodical ordered October 1967 were first received in August 1968. To date, February 1969, the November and December issues have not been received. Inquiries about missing Journals elicited this reply: "Our computer indicates the Journal was sent." One cannot dispute a computer!

The explanation for delays was expressed by one publishing company as follows: "The publisher's change from addressograph plate list to a computer operation has created numerous problems." Amen to that.

In 1964, 84 books were borrowed from Interlibrary Loan. In 1968 two books and 73 photocopies were received. This represents a saving of

Area Delegates At Assembly Of Witnesses

All meetings of the Kingston Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses from Thursday through Sunday have been canceled so members may attend the semi-annual assembly in Schenectady, according to Ernest Kidd Jr., presiding minister for the Kingston area.

More than 150 ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses from the 16 congregations from Amsterdam to Kingston will attend the three-day Bible training program arranged by the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society of Brooklyn. Presiding minister, Kidd, will speak to the delegates at 4:30 p.m. Sunday on the subject "Appreciating Jehovah." Summarizing the Watchtower study normally held at each Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses on Sunday, Kidd has also been appointed as assistant cafeteria director to oversee the food purchasing and preparation for some 30 hot meals to be served between sessions for the convenience of the delegates in attendance.

Also appointed to head convention departments are Robert Farnes of Shokan in installation and equipment; and Richard Dykstra of Boiceville as assistant director of the Refreshment.

Area GOP Women at White House

Republican women from New York State will join Republican women throughout the Nation as Mrs. Richard M. Nixon welcomes them to Washington with a White House reception during the 17th Annual Republican Women's Conference, April 14-17.

National Committeewomen Mrs. Keith S. McHugh, and State Vice Chairman Mrs. John A. Rogalin, announced today the New York State Chairmen for the 17th Annual GOP Women's Conference: Mrs. Joseph F. Griffo, Geneseo, Conference Chairman; Mrs. Lyn Wilkin, New York City, Publicity Chairman.

Announcement of the White House reception was made in Washington this week by Asst. Republican National Chairman Mary Brooks. Mrs. Brooks also noted that the theme for the gathering, expected to attract several thousand GOP women to the City's Sheraton Park Hotel for the Conference, is the Inaugural keynote, "Forward Together."

Mrs. McHugh, Mrs. Rogalin and Mrs. Griffo will lead the State's group to the Conference that marks the first Republican year in the nation's Capitol in almost a decade. Wives of Senators, Congressional leaders and Governor's are also invited. Mr. McHugh said the Conference sessions will set in motion a "Forward Together" program to stimulate action and planning for the 1970 Congressional elections. The meetings will also feature top Republican leaders speaking out on the programs and goals of the Nixon-Agnew Administration.

Mrs. Rogalin said this Conference will send Republican women back home knowing that their efforts in the '68 campaign were tremendously effective and that the 1970 Congressional races will be the focal point for their activities.

Mrs. Griffo noted that the women were "excited by the prospect of a Washington meeting, the first GOP year in almost a decade."

Top Republican leaders and members of the new Administration will roll out the welcome mat for the ladies, beginning with an evening "Supper Gala" in Sheraton Hall on the opening day of Conference registration, Monday, April 14.

Tuesday's opening sessions will be dominated by members of the Cabinet and top women appointees, who will be presented in a series of "briefings." Cabinet members will also address the ladies during the Wednesday morning sessions.

A "Grand Old Party Banquet" is scheduled for the evening of Wednesday, April 16 in Sheraton Hall and Conference plans include afternoon workshops that will concentrate on the importance of the Congressional races of 1970.

Ping Pong Invades Fashions

By JOAN DEPPA

PARIS (UPI) — Designer Emanuel Ungaro made the lowly ping pong ball high fashion—or at least what looked like the lowly ping pong ball.

The little white styrofoam balls he hung all over a white lace evening cape Thursday certainly bounced like table tennis balls when the model walked through Ungaro's ultra-modern salon.

That was complemented by the gentle clink of the model's metal bra, the sort of chastity belts for the bosom that Ungaro first introduced last season.

The ping pong balls were the first good giggle of the fashion season, but Ungaro showed plenty of serious fashion as well.

Particularly good were long vests that came almost to the hem of pleated dresses in paint box prints by the fabric manufacturers, Nattier.

After Ungaro is finished with the Nattier fabrics, they are sometimes sold to small ready-to-wear houses who try but never manage to copy the couturier's designs.

Black and white were definitely Ungaro's favorite colors for spring, but he also linked combinations of orange and bright pink or bright pink and turquoise, particularly when they were played off against black.

He has always liked trousers, wide at the bottom, generally cuffed and frequently part of a jump suit.

Beauty Tips Will Be Club Topic For Homemakers

Every woman has the potential to be beautiful, and developing that potential is easier than she may think, members of the Plaza Heights Homemakers will learn at their next meeting on Thursday. Simple steps to follow in realizing this potential for beauty will be illustrated in a color film, and discussed during a face-shape demonstration, the program chairman, Mrs. Charles P. Cavanagh, has announced. Basic routines for personal beauty care and the simple techniques for skillful application of today's makeup will be featured in the new film, "Simply Beautiful," produced by a leading cosmetics firm.

Members will learn how effective makeup and hair styling can improve facial contour, bringing it closer to the desirable oval shape. By checking a special "demonstrator," members will discover their face shapes — oval, round, square, oblong, heart or diamond.

All club members will receive a helpful "how-to" booklet, "Simply Beautiful," at the conclusion of the program.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:
When window shades become soiled and faded, I remove the shade from the window and roll it out on my living room floor. I take my scissors and cut the shade from the roller.

I machine stitch a new hem on the CUT end and reinsert the stick in this hem. Then I tack the soiled end of the shade on the roller, replace on the window and here is a nice clean shade that cost NOTHING.

Mrs. Harry Smith

Dear Heloise:
Perhaps some of the younger mothers do not know the trick of making little girls' blouses from men's worn shirts.

Place the pattern upside down, thus utilizing the existing buttons and button holes and the lesser-worn tail part of the shirt, for the top of the blouse! Cut the sleeves for the blouse from the best part of the shirt sleeves.

Add a Peter Pan, Mandarin, or any other type collar, not to be turned back. Caution: Position the top button carefully before cutting.

Helpful Hints

As an aid in teaching your children to make their own beds, sew a colored string to the center of each blanket, sheet and bed spread, so that they can find the center of each and line them up properly. Then put a colored mark or thumbtack on the center of the headboard as a guide.

If you rinse a pan in cold water before pouring milk in it to heat, the milk will not stick to the pan.

When rolling cookie dough, use powdered sugar instead of flour on the rolling board. This will make the cookies a wee bit sweeter but they will not get tough as they sometimes do when they are rolled out on a floured board.

Any slick substance on your hands—such as household washing bleach—can be removed by applying vinegar straight from the bottle, then rinsing.

When you are preparing fried scallops, you can cook and brown them in either shallow fat or deep hot fat.

BIAGIO SAVIANO of 210 Foxhall Avenue, Kingston, was honored Saturday, Feb. 16, at a testimonial dinner at Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties. In the early part of this century, Mr. Saviano and the late Raphael Saviano came to America and settled among the Italian immigrants in this vicinity. In this settlement of Italian families, Mr. and Mrs. Saviano were called upon often to serve as godparents for newborn babies. The couple was so honored more than 50 times, and the testimonial dinner was given by the godchildren and their families still living in the area. A former carpenter, Mr. Saviano has a son Lawrence, of Kingston. Approximately 60 persons attended the event.

Late Surge Gives Oneonta Win Over Hawks

TWO FOR THE MONEY — Wilt Chamberlain (13) of the Los Angeles Lakers and Willis Reed (19) of the New York Knicks battle for a rebound in game at Madison Square Garden last night. Wilt scored 31 points to lead Lakers to 113-109 victory to crack Knicks' 11-game winning streak. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

According to LA Coach

Not So Super Lakers Snap Knick's Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Butch van Breda Kolff had a hunch that even with superstars Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West his Los Angeles Lakers weren't going to be a super team. Good, yes; super, no.

"We just don't have the personnel to play a moving offensive game," van Breda Kolff said Tuesday night after the Lakers pinned a 113-109 defeat on New York that snapped the Knicks' club record 11-game winning streak.

"You saw us out there. We had two 7-footers in the line-up. Wilt Chamberlain and Mel Counts. There was no movement. And we lead the league in turnovers and we can't make free throws. What did we make, 27 of 48? They can't make unguarded shots from only 15 feet out and they'll probably all ask for raises."

"Johnny Egan runs the team pretty well and isn't affected by pressure defenses. But he gets murdered on defense because of his size. And when he's not in there we look like a bunch of trucks coming up court."

Chamberlain and Counts moved well enough to drop the red-hot Knicks three games behind the Baltimore in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division. Chamberlain scored 31 points and pulled down 23 rebounds while Counts added 23 points. Walt Frazier paced the Knicks with 30.

New York led by 14 points early in the third period before Chamberlain sparked the rally that kept the Lakers 4½ games ahead of Atlanta in the West. The Hawks nipped Cincinnati 124-123.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia trimmed San Diego 125-113, Boston downed Phoenix 116-110, San Francisco stopped Detroit 121-114 and Seattle edged Chicago 114-113.

In the American Basketball Association, Oakland got by Denver 118-116 in overtime and Indiana turned back Minnesota 140-133.

Philadelphia moved past New York into second place in the East as Hal Greer's 30 points and 22 by Wally Jones offset a 37-point spree by San Diego's Elvin Hayes.

The Rockets, behind by as many as 15 points in the first half, narrowed the gap to 100-97 with 7:15 left. But the 76ers ran off eight straight points to salt the game away.

Zelmo Beaty's short jump shot with six seconds left enabled Atlanta to squeak by Cincinnati. That gave the Hawks a 6-foot-9 center game honors with 35 points, one more than teammate Lou Hudson. Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson had 33.

John Havlicek and Sam Jones keyed Boston to a 47-29 lead over Phoenix and Bailey Howell hit two quick buckets to pull the Celtics out of danger after the Suns pulled within four points.

Havlicek finished with 20 points and Jones 19 but the losers' Gail Goodrich had 29.

San Francisco moved 2½ games ahead of San Diego in the battle for third place in the West, knocking off Detroit 121-107.

West, knocking off Detroit 121-107. Nate Thurmond's 37 points and 32 rebounds scored 21 in the third period as the Warriors went ahead to stay. Dave Bing was high for the Pistons with 22.

John Tresvant's 20-foot jumper with one second left gave Seattle its triumph over Chicago.

The win shot the Super Sonics within one game of the Bulls, who dropped three games behind San Diego in the race for the fourth and last playoff spot in the West.

UCCC at Crossroads For Regional Invite

On that occasion the since departed Tony Pough rimmed 34 points in one of his more spectacular performances. Jesse Larrier dunked 21 and Marshall O'Neill, the corner shot expert, rimmed 26. Larrier and O'Neill will also be among the missing tonight.

"I don't know if we can spot a team like the Aggies that much on their home court," said a grim Coach Mike Perry. "This could be the hardest battle of the season for us and the boys are aware of it."

"On the other hand, the selections committee's action might just be the incentive we need," he added.

Five teams were named to the Regionals on Monday and Ulster was not among them. The teams picked included from the UCCC lineup, tonight from the one that handled the Aggies with ease at the auditorium!

Ulster trounced the high scoring but loose defensive playing Aggies in a 129-119 barrage at the municipal auditorium.

Bu, the shocker is this. A total of 81 points will be missing from the UCCC lineup, tonight from the one that handled the Aggies with ease at the auditorium!

NEW PALTZ
Oneonta State pulled away in the last nine minutes to trounce the State University Hawks, 84-63, in a State of New York Athletic Conference (SUNYAC) contest here Tuesday night. New Paltz led at only one stage of the game with 15:30 left in the first half 7-6 but six straight points by the Dragons left the Hawks on the short end for good.

It was pretty much of a basket-for-basket contest the remainder of the half. The score the 9:06 mark left to go and then the roof fell in.

Charlie Jones put on a scoring spurt hitting six out of seven field goals attempts in the next six minutes before giving way to the second team. Jones led the scoring for the Dragons with 19 points and Brian Hassett added 12 points.

The contest could have gone either way up to this point but it was the case of who could run off a 6-10 point surge first.

Jim Leonardo hit from 20 feet out on a jump shot, making the score 61-50, after the Dragons had run off two fast breaks and a three point play by Charlie Jones, times remaining 7:05.

Through the next four minutes the Hawks were outscored 13-3, making the score book read 74-53 with 3:04 left in the game.

Coach Ed Kassler who is one of the least active coaches on the bench, (not a Lou Carnesecca) we have seen in recent games gave his second team something to take a shower for as they battle the Hawks to a 10-10 stand-off over the last three minutes. It was 74-53 when they entered the game and the final read 84-63.

Charlie Jones was the best shooter on either team as he made 9 of 19 attempts from the field for a 52.9 per cent mark.

Jim Leonardo led the Hawks with 19 points, hitting on 8 of 21 tries for a 38.5 per cent mark.

Oneonta hit on 33 of 73 attempts for a 45.2 percentage from the field while the Hawks were 26 for 71 a 36.6 percentage.

New Paltz outscored the Dragons 30-27, but had many more turnovers.

New Paltz is now 1-9 in SUNYAC competition and 3-14 overall, while the Dragons boast a 3-5 in the SUNYAC and 9-7 in all games played.

New Paltz plays at home this Saturday against Genesee State.

contest here Tuesday night.

New Paltz led at only one stage of the game with 15:30 left in the first half 7-6 but six straight points by the Dragons left the Hawks on the short end for good.

It was pretty much of a basket-for-basket contest the remainder of the half. The score the 9:06 mark left to go and then the roof fell in.

Charlie Jones put on a scoring spurt hitting six out of seven field goals attempts in the next six minutes before giving way to the second team. Jones led the scoring for the Dragons with 19 points and Brian Hassett added 12 points.

The contest could have gone either way up to this point but it was the case of who could run off a 6-10 point surge first.

Jim Leonardo hit from 20 feet out on a jump shot, making the score 61-50, after the Dragons had run off two fast breaks and a three point play by Charlie Jones, times remaining 7:05.

Through the next four minutes the Hawks were outscored 13-3, making the score book read 74-53 with 3:04 left in the game.

Coach Ed Kassler who is one of the least active coaches on the bench, (not a Lou Carnesecca) we have seen in recent games gave his second team something to take a shower for as they battle the Hawks to a 10-10 stand-off over the last three minutes. It was 74-53 when they entered the game and the final read 84-63.

Charlie Jones was the best shooter on either team as he made 9 of 19 attempts from the field for a 52.9 per cent mark.

Jim Leonardo led the Hawks with 19 points, hitting on 8 of 21 tries for a 38.5 per cent mark.

Oneonta hit on 33 of 73 attempts for a 45.2 percentage from the field while the Hawks were 26 for 71 a 36.6 percentage.

New Paltz outscored the Dragons 30-27, but had many more turnovers.

New Paltz is now 1-9 in SUNYAC competition and 3-14 overall, while the Dragons boast a 3-5 in the SUNYAC and 9-7 in all games played.

New Paltz plays at home this Saturday against Genesee State.

Williams Leaves Friday for World Biathlon Event

TIANO'S TOPICS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Jerry Moss appeared to have regained his early season touch in UCCC's last two games. The Queens Jumping Jack racked up 69 points against Sullivan CCC and State U New Paltz Frosh.

Against Sullivan, Moss scored 36 points and 73.6 per cent on 14 for 19. He raised that average against the Frosh with a blistering 80 per cent on 16 for 20.

Those two spurts come out to 30 for 39 or a 46-plus average. He now has 463 points in 22 games for a 21.1 average with three games left on the UCCC schedule, he is a cinch to go over the 500 mark.

UCCC's all-time record, of course, belongs to Joe Uhl, who scored 904 for a 33.5 average in 27 games during the 1967-68 season.

THE SUREST WAY to arouse the old basketball buffs is to start picking the top players over the years. For example, the recent comparison we did of Joe Uhl and Jerry Moss drew an enthusiastic response.

We noted that several former Kingston high school players and buffs did not agree with our rating of Ronnie Scheffel as the best all-around player ever to perform for the Maroon. There is a surprising amount of support for Palmer (Skip) Brodhead in that area. Brodhead certainly deserves all-time rating but who is No. 1 will always remain the realm of conjecture. The game changes and players adapt themselves to changing times and techniques.

The names of Uhl, Scheffel, Brodhead, Frank Koenig, Dick Bezemer, Big Ed Weaver, Leroy Hooker, Bruce Gilligan, A. J. Murphy, keep popping up. One of these days we're going to sit down with Warren Kias and a few other oldies and dare to select an all-time KHS five from the modern era—post center jump period. And then run for the hills.

INCIDENTALLY, A. J. is making the folks up Siena College mighty happy. His 23.1 game average leads the freshman team and varsity coach Tom Hannon has a guard spot waiting for him on the 1969-70 Siena varsity. Meanwhile, Bruce Gilligan is doing well at Kings College and Big Scott McCandlish, the 6-10 Arlington High DCSL star leads the University of Virginia frosh in scoring. The performance of these three lads attests to the high quality of mid-Hudson-area basketball. Wes Kissel Jr., of Samsonville is competing in the 167-pound division with the Ithaca College wrestling squad. Albany State is plugging its Richie Margison for the Small College All-America basketball team. Ithaca College, meanwhile, is touting Greg Albani.

GAIL ZIMMERMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zimmerman of Kingston, is a member of the Murray State University women's basketball team at Murray, Ky. The MSU lassies are playing their first full schedule this year. A senior, Miss Zimmerman is a health and physical education major at Murray State. Andrew Savage of Kingston has been assistant director to Denis Brady, a senior from Dover Plains, who will head Fordham's University's club football for the 1969 season. Jim Hutchins' high rating in the Northeastern New York PGA hierarchy is reflected in his presence on four standing committees for the 1969 season. The Woodstock pro is listed on the advisory, ethics, education and junior golf groups. No man in the area, pro or amateur, has a finer touch for the ethics, history, philosophy and tradition of the game than has Hutchins.

ON THE THEORY that spring is just round that first snowbank, you see, the Wiltwyck Country Club men's golf committee is stirring. At its first session at the home of chairman Wally Pfeiffer, the committee formulated plans for the 1969 season. Among the items discussed were new tournaments, some course changes and other innovations. The twilight league problems were aired.

Attending the combination bull and work session in addition to Pfeiffer, were Bob Steuding, Harvey Bostic, Don DeKoskie, Harold Van Aken and Charlie King.

There was wide speculation on what would happen the first time Harold Van Aken met big brother Bill, in head to head confrontation this season. Bill, of course, moved from Woodstock to Wiltwyck at the end of the 1968 season.

Childe Harold appeared undisturbed about the prospects. "I play them one at a time," he told the committee.

THIS ITEM HAS BEEN submitted for publication by some wise guys at city hall. "Combining the coolness of a cat burglar with the consistency of the Russian elections, Hugh Reynolds, bowling in the pigeon slot for the B and L Printery, led the Esopus Mixed League with a horrendous 546.

The city hall gang reported Reynolds, who conducts the City Beat column in The Freeman, was quite modest about the whole thing. "I should have had 700," he said, noting the rash of splits, taps, chops and picks that punctuated his "dazzling display of strikes."

Mayor Ray Garraghan endorsed the idea of a "good writeup for Hughie."

"Anybody who supports my city hall project the way Hughie does, deserves a good press" intoned hizzoner.

IT HAD TO HAPPEN: Jake Senor, the Wall Street restaurateur, has terminated his brief, but meteoric comeback in the YMCA basketball league.

"I have induced Joe Uhl to come out of his retirement and take my place," said Jake. "I can't stand the gaff."

Jake's exit was inevitable and who else but Joe Uhl could possibly fill Jake Senor's shoes?

ROSENDALE, Conn., Mt. Beacon and Rosen-Ed (Gus) Williams, Rosendale native and Dartmouth College graduate student, will leave Friday for Zakopane in eastern Poland where he faces the world's best skiers in the World Biathlon Championships.

Ed is rated one of America's best cross country runners and is ranked among a group of five biathletes, behind Mike Gallagher of Killington, Vt., who is the undisputed No. 1 man in the sport in the United States.

Experts bracket Williams in a group that includes Ned Gillette of Barre, Vt.; Jay Bowdman of Eugene, Oregon; Bob Gary of Putney, Vt.; Jon Chafes of Lyme, N.H. and Charles Kellogg of Andover, Mass. Gallagher and Gillette are already in Europe on a tour of the elite racing circuit there.

While Williams heads for Zak-

Purdue Has Just About Got Big 10

by TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Purdue Boilermakers have just about wrapped up the Big Ten championship and a berth in the NCAA postseason tournament next month for the national collegiate basketball title.

The ninth-ranked Boilermakers did it the hard way Tuesday night. They edged Indiana on the road 96-95 and took a two-game lead over Ohio State in the Big Ten race with an assist from Illinois. The Illini, playing at home, knocked off the 10th-ranked Buckeyes 73-57.

Rick Mount threw in 32 points for Purdue, but it was Herman Gilliam's two free throws with seven seconds left that decided the issue. The two charity conversions put the Boilermakers three points ahead, enough to offset Indiana's basket at the buzzer.

"I guess this is the kind you have to win on the road," said George King, Purdue coach. "But, man, it's hard on the coach."

He was referring to Indiana's second-half rally that wiped out a 14-point deficit that tied the score before the Boilermakers pulled it out. Ken Johnson topped Hoosiers with 29 points.

Purdue has five conference games left, three at home against Northwestern, Michigan and Indiana and two on the road against Michigan State and Iowa. All the Boilermakers have to do to win the three at home and they're in as Big Ten champs.

Illinois, No. 19 in the Associated Press rankings, opened a 10-point lead in the second half against Ohio State at 43-33 and the outcome was never in doubt thereafter. Mike Price led the Illini with 20 points. Dave Sorenson was high for the Buckeyes with 25.

In other games involving teams in the AP top 20, West Texas scored a 93-92 overtime home court triumph over 15th-ranked New Mexico State and 20th-ranked Marquette scored on the road over Xavier of Ohio 67-54.

Texas A&M tightened its hold on first place in the Southwest Conference by downing North Texas 86-74. Jim Irving's steal and lay-up with one second left gave St. Louis a 94-93 overtime victory over St. Louis.

Jim Downey's 20-foot jumper with five seconds left tied the regulation game at 61-61 and Boston College went on to defeat Georgetown, D. C., 72-66 in overtime. L. C. Bowen's 29 points paced Bradley over Memphis State 86-62 and Mike Newlin's 25 points led Utah over Oklahoma City despite Rich Travis' 39 points for the Chiefs.

MGB Is Winner In Road Rally

POUGHKEEPSIE

Alison Craig and Cathy Dwyer, in an MGB, won the second rally of the Tyro Tour series organized by the Poughkeepsie Sports Car Club. Their 514 point total for seven controls defeated the 53 other teams entered. In second place, with 724 points, were the winners of the first event in this series, David Koehler and Steve Sitberg in a Volkswagen. This gives them 18 points total toward the Tyro Tour Championship Trophy. Don and Rosalie Fegan, in a Dodge Dart, were third with 793 points.

Scores were generally low, despite the fact that many of the entrants were complete novices. The event drew entrants from as far away as New Jersey and Long Island, and those teams were very impressed by the snow removal job done on the Dutchess County roads.

The last rally of the series will be held on March 23rd to determine the overall championship. This follows a non-competitive clinic on March 16th, where the finer points of navigation will be discussed.

NEW YORK — New York Rangers General Manager Emile Francis (top) said Tuesday he will continue coaching the team for the rest of the season. Francis has been seen at the controls since Bernie Geoffrion (bottom) collapsed and was advised by his doctors to take a rest. Francis says Geoffrion is progressing favorably from a stomach ailment but has been advised to stay away from coaching for the present. (UPI TELEPHOTO FILE)

Ramos Is Youngest Titlist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The new lightweight champion of the world is Mando Ramos, at age 20 the youngest ever to reach such a lofty position in the history of the 135-pound division in boxing.

The tousled-haired, spindly legged kid from Long Beach, Calif., won the title when he stopped 31-year-old Teo Cruz of the Dominican Republic in the 11th round of their scheduled 15-round fight Tuesday night. Cruz weighed 134½ Ramos 134½.

Ramos, the ring rage of the teeny-bopper set, was six months off target. He wanted to win the title as a 19-year-old last September against the champion, Cruz.

"Sorry about that," quipped Mando when reminded of the quest which failed in the first fight with the man from Santo Domingo.

Ramos ripped open an ugly gash over Teo's left eye in the eighth round. He kept reopening it, as well as slicing a smaller cut under the eye, until the bloody drama was stopped with 19 seconds remaining in the 11th.

Under California rules, it goes as a knockout, only the second suffered by Cruz in more than a decade as a professional fighter. "I cut him with a right hand as he came in," said Ramos, whose ring span is some four years and only 26 engagements.

Peter Martinez, an American businessman and Teo's manager, had no complaints. "I felt Teo was a little ahead at the time but the doctor was very fair."

Ring officials had different scores after 10 rounds. Thomas had Ramos ahead, 5-3; judge Dick Young had for Cruz, 6-3, and judge George Latka scored it even, 4-4. The Associated Press had it Cruz, 5-3, and all agreed the youngsters was coming on fast.

High scores for JWB were, John Brown 14 points, Bill Boyd and Bob Burris each had 13 points. Tom Pallaino hit 15 points for Newburgh.

JWB will close its season against MJM at the home this Friday.

J. Watson Bailey Tops Newburgh

Yup, Arnie Has Idea of Retiring Like In Another 10 Years, Maybe

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yup, Arnold Palmer has an idea of quitting.

Ask him and he'll tell you. "I'd like to keep playing at least ten more years," he says. That's Arnold Palmer's idea about quitting.

A lot of people, particularly the older and bolder ones, keep asking the moneyed, 39-year-old Palmer if he intends storing his golf clubs in the closet soon, as far as miking a living with them is concerned anyway, and he never flinches. The reason they keep asking him this same question is because he hasn't been burning up the league lately.

The subject came up again Monday not too long after Palmer arrived here to receive an award from the New York Metropolitan Golf Writers Association. The trophy is known as the William D. Richardson Award, honoring a former golf writer, and bestowed each year in recognition of a major contribution to golf. Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen are among past winners, each receiving the silver trophy long after his prime.

Flies To N.Y.

Anyway, Palmer got in his Lear Jet with his wife Winnie, his administrative assistant Doc Giffin and his pilot Darrell Brown at 8:15 a.m. Monday in Latrobe, Pa. and left for New York City.

"It's a great day for flying," said Palmer, taking note of the near perfect weather.

Approaching Teterboro, N.J., he noticed black, billowing clouds of smoke coming from a fire below on the ground, and commented: "Look at that!" to his wife and Giffin and then was down on the ground himself by 10:30 a.m.

He also noticed many cars still marooned in the snow while driving up Riverside Drive to the General Motors Building where he went to inspect the latest office opened up by Arnold Palmer Enterprises last month, which he hadn't seen as yet.

Then came the short trip over to the midtown hotel where he was to receive his award later and also the inevitable questions. Like:

"How's your hip?"

"Fine."

"How's your weight?"

"Real good. I've lost 12 pounds in the last month and a half."

"Worrying about your game?"

"No. Actually, I'm trying to lose weight."

"What about your game?"

"My putting is the only thing I'm concerned about. The rest of it seems to be coming along."

Palmer, "I mean now that you've won this Richardson award and all."

Palmer studied the guy who asked the question a moment before replying. Then he said:

"I don't want to be skeptical but most of the people in golf who have won this award have been—let's say past the peak a little—when they received it. I hope it's not the case with me. I hope I can pull up my shoestrings and win a few more. I think I can."

"Including the Open?" the guy persisted.

"Including the Open," Arnie said, displaying the perfect Palmer charm.

Later on there were other questions but none dealing with this immediate future. Palmer seemed happy that they changed the subject.

Now they were asking whether he didn't feel golf was being "over-televized."

Overexposure

"I certainly don't think golf is over-televized," he came right back. "Look at it this way: you have a hard time watching golf eight hours a day on TV anyway of the year, but you can sit down and watch eight hours of football any Sunday."

Fine. Now what did he think about the possibility of two separate professional golf tours?

"I think it is inevitable," he said. "I think it's an absolute necessity. We're playing 130-140 players a week. You have 300 others sitting out. You must do something. You can't allow it to go on. It's something we have to face and something we have to handle."

Palmer's personal solution would be the addition of a so-called satellite tour "in the reasonable vicinity" of the principal one. The secondary tour would be subsidized by the main one, with some of the purse even channeled to the satellite if necessary.

That's the way Arnold Palmer sees it. And if you care to know his ideas about quitting, just ask him and he'll tell you.

COME ON, ARNIE, you have enough of these is what Bing Crosby (L) whose "Golf Tee" Award didn't arrive in time seems to be saying to Arnold Palmer, who clutches the Richardson Award at the Metropolitan Golf Writers dinner at New York. Both were cited for contributions to golf. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Horsemen Underground To Plan June 14-15 Show

No jokes about the ground-hogs of Andy Warhol, please. The Woodstock Riding Club members are going under ground in a few days!

The club's February 20 meeting will be held in the Underground Caves in Rosendale. The time is 8 p.m. WRC officials are exhorting their members not to miss this unusual project. The underground complex of 30 acres has been described as "truly another world."

The Woodstock club, one of the most prestigious in the area horse world, has set Saturday and Sunday, June 14-15 as the dates for its annual show.

Hunter and Morgan divisions will be held on June 14 and Western Division on Sunday.

Co-chairmen Bob Davis and Joan Morehouse said the unprecedented meeting at the Rosendale caves was motivated by a desire to "build this show from the ground up."

Gloria Rich will serve as show secretary and Maryann Avallone is the treasurer. Prize list committee includes Peg Mickelson, Hunter division; Dale Vellaccio, Western and Marshia Landers, Morgan division.

Louise Van Wageningen, Sue DeLisio and Donn Avallone have been hard at work preparing the prize list for mailing to the American Horse Show Association which has sanctioned the show. Don Vellaccio, a prominent Italian chef, has promised to man the

The WRC board of directors, meanwhile, has granted use of the club grounds to the New York State Morgan Horse Association for a free clinic and exhibition during the latter part of April. A similar event at the Van Voorhis Farm in Red Hook two years ago attracted more than 5,000 persons. ERC officials feel the Morgan show will put the Woodstock club in the forefront of the Morgan horse show world and be a real shot in the arm for the club's June show.

The club has welcomed four new members — Ed Green, a junior member; and Georgia Green, Mike and Peg Mickelson, senior members.

No 1969 Deficit, Says Budget Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal government will stay out of the red this year and next despite creeping costs and a shrinking surplus, according to Budget Director Robert P. Mayo.

Mayo testified Tuesday before the joint Senate-House Economic Committee, which continued its hearings today with testimony from Treasury Secretary David Kennedy.

Mayo told the committee that government outlays—especially the cost of interest on the federal debt—apparently will exceed the budget estimates made by former President Johnson for both fiscal 1969 and 1970.

This prompted speculation that the slender 12.4 billion surplus bequeathed by Johnson might sink into a deficit before the 1969 fiscal year ends June 30. Mayo told a reporter he did not intend to give such an impression.

"I think we'll be able to preserve a surplus, though not necessarily a very robust one," he said.

A deficit is always possible, he conceded, "but I do not expect it." He said the small surplus "could be either doubled or wiped out by the receipts estimate were off by as little as 1 1/2 per cent."

A slightly larger error could cancel out the $3.4 billion 1970 surplus as well, but Mayo indicated he expects to stay in black ink.

So far the committee, though dominated by Democrats, has treated the Nixon men gently, even cordially. There have been critical comments, however, on the number of former bankers among Nixon's appointees to the economic policymaking positions.

Kennedy is the former board chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and several of his aides were banking officials.

All the administration witnesses so far supported extension of the 10 per cent surtax beyond its scheduled June 30 expiration date, though President Nixon—who made campaign speeches calling for its elimination or reduction—has not declared an official position.

Mayo testified flatly that it is "our administration's current position" to support the extension, and hinted that he would like to see Congress act promptly.

Man Is Indicted For Killing Wife

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — The Warren County Grand Jury Tuesday indicted Thomas J. Wynn on a charge of murdering his politically prominent wife.

A deficit is always possible, he conceded, "but I do not expect it." He said the small surplus "could be either doubled or wiped out by the receipts estimate were off by as little as 1 1/2 per cent."

A slightly larger error could cancel out the $3.4 billion 1970 surplus as well, but Mayo indicated he expects to stay in black ink.

Urges Same Effort on Hunger As Expended for Moon Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Southern senator who admits once covering up a hunger problem in his state says the federal government should put the same effort into ending malnutrition that it expended sending men to the moon.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., Tuesday told a Senate committee investigating malnutrition that just as the United States 10 years ago set out to conquer space, the government "should set as a national goal the elimination of hunger and slum conditions in America."

Connecticut Pair Jailed In Drug Case

RED HOOK
Town Justice Frank Martin clamped down on defendants in narcotics cases Tuesday and meted out jail sentences of 11 months and 27 days to two Connecticut men after they pleaded guilty.

John B. Zealor, 21, of Danbury and Albert R. Vallee, 22, of Bethel, were committed to the Dutchess County jail. They were accused of criminal possession and use of dangerous drugs and possessing implements used to administer the drugs.

Rhinebeck State Troopers Roy Coakley and Frank Petraglia were on routine patrol near here at 4 a.m. yesterday, when they stopped a car on Route 9 after they noticed the unsteady course the vehicle was taking. Troopers said Zealor appeared "to be way out" and was found to be "on a trip" after taking some drugs.

Quantities of marijuana and barbiturates were found in possession of the pair.

Rescue, Emergency Squad Formed In Saugerties Village

SAUGERTIES
The formation of a volunteer rescue and emergency squad was announced by Fire Commissioner Donald McCaig at Monday night's Saugerties Village Board meeting held in the clerk's office.

Commissioner McCaig said the new unit will be available soon for use and protection of residents of the village and will work in conjunction with the volunteer fire companies in the village and the Police Department.

Tentative plans call for the conversion of the village-owned ambulance to a rescue vehicle, who is parks commissioner or to trade in the ambulance, which is not in current use, for the purchase of an Econoline rescue van. The volunteer squad will provide 24-hour emergency protection to village residents.

Further announcements will be made as the plan progresses, McCaig reported.

A letter of resignation from Village Water Board President Robert M. Moser, read by Mayor Cornelius M. Cox, was accepted with regret by the Village Board. The resignation is effective March 1. Moser has accepted the position of town poles.

Commissioner Underhill also advised he had received a request from Saugerties Little League about tree limbs blocking the lights and other recommendations including the installation of two additional light poles.

Dear Abby

Must Be a Real Woman

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune - N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am 53 and have been a widow for three years. I keep my hand in business to keep occupied, but I have no money worries.

I dress fashionably, am well-groomed, I wear glasses and my figure is "so-so." I'm no beauty, and I look my age.

I would like to get married again, but I don't like old men, and young men don't like me. Don't tell me to travel. I've traveled plenty and all I meet is other women looking for men. Don't tell me to develop my personality. I have more "personality" than most men I know. Don't suggest contact lenses. I've tried them and can't wear them. And don't tell me to tint my hair. I already do. What can you do for me?

LOOKING: No man wants a woman who anticipates all the questions and knows all the answers. If you really want a man, you'll have to come across more like a woman.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are expecting our first baby in about a month. We've arranged to have a woman come in (afternoons) to help with the cooking and cleaning the first two weeks.

The problem is my mother has informed us that she is coming as soon as the baby is born so she can "help" me. Abby, I wrote her some time ago, telling her that I wanted fun, Dad, a hug or a kiss on her to wait until the baby is a month old, but she apparently ignored my suggestion. My mother is extremely critical and I am her favorite target. She makes me nervous. The last time she visited us, my husband threatened to send her packing if she didn't lay off me.

How can I tell my mother to please stay home that first month without causing a major rift?

UPSET MOTHER-TO-BE: DEAR UPSET: Tell your mother again, just as you have told me, that you will welcome her when the baby is one month old - but not before. If it causes a major rift, be prepared to accept it. Otherwise prepare to be criticized, AND upset.

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the letter from "FRIGHTENED," the 27-year-old woman whose 65-year-old father-in-law wanted a kiss on the lips, Abby, I think you were very rough on the old man.

I, too, am an old man and a widower, and I don't think many young folks realize how desperately lonely and hungry for a little affection an old man can be at times. Not for SEX - just a touch of the hand.

BETHESDA: DEAR BETHESDA: I'm all for showing affection and plenty of it, but when a man tries to kiss his daughter-in-law coming as soon as the baby is born so she can "help" me (plainly stated in the letter) I Abby, I wrote her some time ago, telling her that I wanted fun, Dad, a hug or a kiss on her to wait until the baby is fectionate message. CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED PARENTS IN PITTSBURGH: No. We don't need a "new" code of morals. What we need is the courage and wisdom to live up to the old ones.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069.

Jean Adams TEEN FORUM

HAIRY EXILE: (Q.) I left my parents to live on my own so I could wear my hair long. I'm going to a junior college to avoid the draft. I'm 18 and married. I don't make enough yet to support us, so my wife lives with her parents and goes to high school. She's 15.

I'm 15 miles away from her and only get to see her once a week. I want her to finish school but that will take three years. What should I do?

Also, why can't parents and society accept long hair?—Yours Respectively in Peace, New York.

(A.) Someday you will wake up to two facts: (1) We all have problems and running from them doesn't solve them.

(2) We are all members of society and we have to go by its rules or take the consequences.

Your No. 1 problem is your wife. You should not have married her but you did. Now live with her, even if you have to walk the 15 miles to her home each day, or ask your parents to take you back and keep you and her, or quit school and go to work full time to support her.

Your No. 2 problem, and a much smaller one, is your hair. To solve your No. 1 problem you may have to get your No. 2 problem cut. Please do not hesitate to do so if this is necessary.

You have done one thing right. That is keeping your wife in school. Help her all you can to finish.

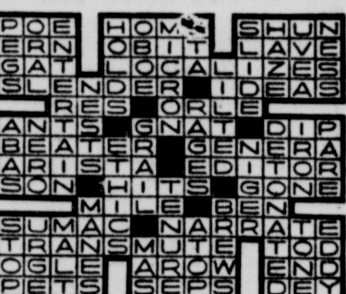

VIETNAM MAIL: (Q.) I want to write to some boy in Vietnam. Can you give me a name and address? I'm 16.—D. in Birmingham, Ala.

(A.) You can address a letter to a USO in Vietnam and it will be given to a young serviceman. Maybe he will write you back. You can write as many letters as you want to as many USOs as you want. Here are some addresses: USO Saigon, APO San Francisco 96243; USO Danang Number 1, Advisory Team Number 1, APO San Francisco 96337; USO Tan Son Nhut, APO San Francisco 96307; USO Chu Lai, Task Force Oregon, APO San Francisco 96347; USO China Beach, FPO San Francisco 96696.

Many Nifty Dishes on Tube

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Not so long ago, it was pretty difficult to find many truly attractive women as stars of television's weekly series. I mean the kind of women who appeal mostly to men rather than to ladies of the sewing-circle, bridge-club category.

The theory that kept sexy dames at a minimum as video regulars apparently was that it was bad business to give inferiority complexes to average ladies at home who do most of the buying of the weekly visitors in the living vulnerability that makes her irresistible.

One of the happier things about the home tube these days is that a fellow can tune in at almost any hour of prime time and find a gorgeous dish or two to ogle.

Maybe part of the reason is that the networks are going more and more after the "young adult" audience, which the apparently has fewer hangups about having pretty ladies as products television sells.

The sexiest thing on television is, without question, Barbra Streisand in her annual CBS-TV beauty, And Michelle Nichols of the same network's "Star Trek" specials.

As for the weekly stars, Susan Saint James of NBC-TV's "The Name of the Game" continues to outshine her vehicles. She is a wonderful looking comedy actress, in the tradition of what's-her-name on "Green Acres."

But Barbara Bain of CBS-TV's "Mission: Impossible" is a nifty-looking dame, and a good actress, and is one of the few plays a rather nutty character, ladies I have ever seen who are able to be cool and warm at the same time. Oh Boy, I mean, oh discern that she has a certain Boy.

Opening lead—♠ 5

A mathematician would have no trouble making three no-trump with today's hand. He would win the spade lead with his ace and count eight tricks. The ninth could come in the diamond suit if the ace of diamonds shows up in the West hand. It could come in the heart suit if hearts were divided evenly. He would know that it was even money that West would hold the diamond ace and almost two to one against finding three hearts in each hand.

Then, because mathematicians don't like to waste time, he would win the spade in his hand, lead a king diamond to dummy's king and claim his contract.

An expert bridge player would also make three no-trump but he would take a little more time doing it. Expert bridge players don't have to be great mathematicians but they all know that a suit breaks 3-3 a trifle less than 3-6 per cent of the time. They also are in no hurry to make important decisions, so the expert player would run off four club tricks before deciding which red suit would be better to attack.

West would have to make one discard and East two discards. One of them might throw away a heart. In that case, South might decide to play a heart to dummy's king and a second heart back to his ace to see if hearts were going to break for him. With one heart discarded, if both opponents followed twice there would only be one heart left to annoy him.

Or they might throw diamonds in such manner as to give South a very good idea where the ace could be found.

Failing all that, South would fall back on mathematics and try for his ninth trick in diamonds.

Zoning Ordinance Discussed

By LYNN MULVANEY

RED HOOK
A new zoning ordinance and "teenage Saturday night restlessness" came under discussion at Tuesday night's meeting of the Red Hook Town Board.

When asked if copies of the new proposed ordinance were available for perusal, Supervisor Warren Simmons said he didn't think they should be handed out before the town board meets with the planning and zoning boards for an ordinance hearing.

The town, which acknowledged a letter from the Planning Board recommending action on the ordinance set a date of Feb. 27 at 7:30 for the joint meeting.

Seeks Youth Facilities
Teenage recreation problems reached the floor when Mrs. Joan Malloy asked, "What youth facilities the town plans?" Supervisor Simmons told of summer and winter recreation programs but Mrs. Malloy asked for more specifics — mainly wanting to know where the youngsters can go for supervised social activities?

Simmons spoke of the school's facilities saying "This is about as cheap as you can make it for the taxpayer and then asked, 'You want to have a youth center constructed and have it destroyed as in other towns?'" Simmons said such a program was tried in Pine Plains and they "destroyed the place" because "you can't get enough supervision."

"What about the good kids?" Mrs. Malloy wanted to know. Aware of the troublesome ones, she asked if the "people" were not entitled to a town investigation into the feasibility of having a teenage facility?

The supervisor said he had investigated the situation extensively and that a teenage center might work for six to eight months, "until some wise guys get in and ruin it."

Mrs. Betty Van Parys, representing the Red Hook Democratic Women's Club, suggested that local churches take turns in putting on dances for the youngsters.

Another man told of former facilities for the town's youth that are not now functioning as centers for them, including a dairy bar, the VFW and the Elks Club.

Mention was also made of a recent school basketball game at which several out-of-town youngsters under the age of 16 were picked up at Red Hook for having shopping bags of wine and beer in their possession.

"I suggest the parents take more interest," Supervisor Simmons declared.

Mrs. Malloy also asked about the possibility of securing bus transportation for the town youth to take them elsewhere for recreational facilities, such as Kingston. "I don't know if Kingston would accept them," said Simmons. "They have their problems."

In other business the supervisor said he had received word from the county executive David Schoentag asking that the town establish a Conservation Advisory Council along with other townships in the county. Simmons said he is writing to Schoentag for more information before taking any action.

Will Lend Voting Machine
The town approved the lending of a voting machine to the village and acknowledged receipt of a $700 check from the Town of Tivoli for the library.

The meeting concluded with the problems of the dog catcher unsolved. It seems that whenever the canine official leaves his house, if even for a Sunday afternoon drive, he finds upon his return that a number of dogs have been tied to his front porch. At last count there were four. The board said it didn't know how to prevent such happenings but suggested the dog catcher get a receipt from the SPCA when he turns the dogs over.

Forest Park Citizens Organization was represented at the meeting by its president, Donald Watkins.

TRANSFERRED TO STRETCHER — Joseph Abdel Aziz, 30, of the United Arab Republic is transferred to a stretcher, near Hudson, after being airlifted from the tank ship "World Justice" by the Coast Guard helicopter. Aziz was burned when fire broke out on the 660 foot ship that was sailing between Albany and New York. The fire was brought under control and the ship is in no danger. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

New Paltz Classes Are Disrupted

By DENNIS R. CARO

NEW PALTZ
The "silly season" has apparently come early for State University College, New Paltz, this year, and college administrators were wondering just how far it might go.

Spring is typically the time for campus unrest here, coincidentally coinciding with an outbreak of weather warm enough to do things outside the shelter of buildings without suffering physical discomfort.

Last year a hitherto unknown instructor named Roger Knapp sat himself down in the president's office and fasted in support of certain student demands. The year before 29 students and non-students ran afoul of Ulster County Sheriff William B. Martin when they objected to the presence of Marine and Navy recruiters on campus in a manner that obstructed the rights of their fellows.

And Monday, a so-called theatre group, affiliated with the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) ran through the college's arts building disrupting classes.

The group, calling itself the "Pageant Players" ("a radical theatre group" that performs "guerrilla, street theatre") entered the arts building, gained an audience by beating on tambourines, gave a performance of sorts, passed the hat for "expenses" and then ran through the building, reportedly shouting profanities.

Although some of the participants were New Paltz students, the majority came from New York City as part of a group that travels from campus to campus staging such demonstrations.

Heard Music

According to Nancy Weber, a sophomore arts major who was in class in the building at time, "first we heard music and it was off—it was bad, but I think it was supposed to be. We left, class to see what was happening and they put on sort of a play called "Pushing." What it was, was everybody pushing each other."

Nancy, as did most of the students who left class to watch, thought the show was "a little silly, but it was fun. It was a nice break in the routine."

But for one instructor, "fun" was not quite the right word. The group allegedly entered his class, beating on the tambourines, and shouted profanities at him until he dismissed the class and left the building.

"Disruption of classes is a serious thing," commented J. Donald Kent, the college's Director of Public Relations Tuesday. "I know the administration is discussing the ramifications of this demonstration, but I don't know what position they are going to take."

"I presume that they will say that if non-students are taking part in disrupting classes, appropriate action will be taken and I would also presume that if students are involved appropriate action will also be taken."

Will Discuss Situation
"We can't have people running into classes and disrupting them, but I would assume at this point that all that will happen is that the situation will be discussed and some warnings will be issued."

All that is, unless the situation gets worse. "In general," Kent said, "the student population is not really SDS oriented the way it is possibly at some other institutions. The students here are

RFK Bodyguard Tells Story About Night of Assassination

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—You are assigned to protect the life of a man who may be the next president of the United States.

You stay at his side for weeks. You put his life before your own.

And then, one night he hops off a platform and surges off into a mob. You help his wife down and hurry off in his direction. You hear popping like balloons exploding.

And when you get to his side it is too late. He has been mortally wounded and there is nothing you can do. You dive at the killer and smash him twice in the face but you haven't saved Robert F. Kennedy.

Bill Barry, 41, a strapping former FBI agent, did not tell that way at the murder trial of Sirhan B. Sirhan but his tragedy was between the lines.

Speaking slowly, his voice sometimes faltering, Barry told the jury Kennedy leaped from a stage in the Ambassador Hotel, thereby interposing dozens of people between him and his bodyguard. Barry helped Mrs. Ethel Kennedy off the three-foot podium and shortly thereafter heard the shots.

Today the jury was to hear the testimony of George Plimpton, a close personal friend of the Kennedys and author of the book, "Paper Lion," who was another of the men who pounced on the 5-foot-4 Sirhan immediately after the shooting.

Rafa Johnson, 6-foot-4, 190 pounds, testified Tuesday he joined in subduing the gunman. Johnson won the decathlon championship in Rome in the 1960 Olympic Games.

The trial Tuesday finally exploded the bubble of the mysterious "brunette girl in the black and white polka dot dress."

Valerie Schulte, 22, a long-tressed blonde graduate of the University of California at Santa Barbara, testified she was at the Ambassador victory party as one of Kennedy's young campaign workers.

She was there that night in a polka dot dress but it was green with yellow polka dots and she held it up in court for everyone to see. She was on crutches at the time as a result of a skiing accident, she said.

Miss Schulte said she never spoke to Sirhan or even noticed him in the crowd until the shooting.

Rondout School Board To Mail Newsletter

ACCORD
A newsletter giving the Rondout Valley Central Board of Education's views on the proposed fiscal plans of Gov. Rockefeller is expected to be in the mail shortly following approval at Tuesday night's meeting of the board.

Dr. Ted T. Grenda, Superintendent of RVC, said the letter to district taxpayers would tell the consequences of full enactment of the governor's proposals that includes a cut in the state aid formula to local schools.

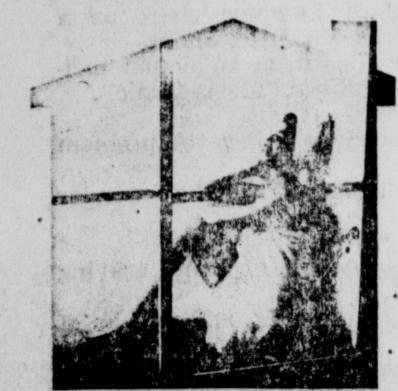

It had been expressed by the board that any cut in state aid would have to result in equal cuts in school operations, or an increase in local school taxes.

The board approved the appointment of John Millon as football coach for the coming year. The average teacher-student ratio for the RVC schools was placed at "considerably less" than the average for other schools in the Mid-Hudson area, the board said in a review of staffing requirements and class size.

Other action included the approval of a driver practices class. On a self-supporting basis, the class would be scheduled whenever there are 10 registrants at one time. The registrants would pay a fee of $3 for the three hour course.

Progress with various employee organizations in the school system was discussed by Dr. Grenda and a report on the construction of the Rosendale School as well as an addition for the Senior High School was heard from the board's building committee.
